Grand Jury To Get Bar Death Case

Chester Man Pleads Innocent, Is Held On $2,500 Bond

Homer Richard (Sonny) Williams, 21, of 607 Florida Ave., Chester, was bound over to the Grand Jury under $2,500 bond after a preliminary hearing today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a first degree manslaughter charge filed in a former East Liverpool man's death June 4 after he allegedly had been struck by Williams in a Dresden Ave. tavern.

He had pleaded innocent as the hearing opened.

The charge against Williams, accused of the death of Wilbert Willard Jr., 34, of Tampa, Fla., was filed by Police Lt. Mike Winters Jr. It alleges that he "did unlawfully kill Wilbert Willard..."

Lt. Winters was the only prosecution witness called to the stand. He was subjected to over half an hour of questions by Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark, appearing for the prosecution, and Atty. George A. Aronson, defense counsel.

The defense called only one witness, Patrolman H. W. Bosworth, who made a diagram of the death scene and made his own notes of questions and answers during Williams' interrogation.

Three more prosecution witnesses had been summoned, but they were not called to the witness chair.

They were identified as William D. Hebron, 820 Daisy Alley, Frank Thorne, 744 Sophia St., and Archie Brown, rear 806 St. Clair Ave. In the initial report of the death, police listed Hebron and Thorne as witnesses and said they were present at the Green Mill Tavern when Williams allegedly struck Mr. Willard.

Mr. Willard was pronounced dead on arrival at City Hospital shortly after the incident. Dr. Roy C. Costello, deputy county coroner, said he died of a cranial hemorrhage and a dislocated neck. After an inquest, the physician issued a finding that Mr. Willard died "of physical injuries, the result of a blow."

Lt. Winters said he was at police headquarters that Sunday morning at 2:57 when the desk man received a telephoned report of "trouble" at the tavern about a block away. He said he drove to the tavern in a cruiser, arriving moments behind Patrolmen Samuel E. Hayes and Robert B. Pyle.

He said he found Officer Hayes taking Mr. Willard's pulse. Mr. Willard was lying face down on the floor, he said. Lt. Winters said he dispatched Officers Pyle and Hayes in a cruiser to seek Mr. Willard's assailant. An ambulance was called to remove Mr. Willard to the hospital, he added.

When Mr. Willard was pronounced dead, a nurse summoned Dr. Costello in his capacity as deputy coroner, the lieutenant testified. Meanwhile, at the tavern, an outline was made on the tavern floor where Mr. Willard's body was found and a diagram of the scene was made by Patrolman H. W. Bosworth, the lieutenant said.

Lt. Winters said when he re-

Toronto Man Cited In Another Mishap

A district woman was injured in a collision on Coolidge Rd. Monday afternoon and a Toronto driver was cited after a mishap on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Super - road, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Betty Jane Fluharty, 41, of the Y. & O. Rd. suffered lacerations and bruises of the knees and a bruised nose when her 1953 convertible and a 1960 truck operated by David R. Buchheit, 18, of Dewey Ave. Ext. collided about 4:30 on Coolidge Rd., a third of a mile north of the Y. & O. Rd.

Officers said the two vehicles collided on a curve. There was light damage to the truck and moderate damage to the auto, the patrol said.

John E. Shultz, 56, of Toronto R. D. 2 was cited for reckless operation after his 1961 sedan collided with a 1959 sedan operated by William Bailey, 32, of Irondale R. D. 1 on the super - road about 5:15 p. m.

The patrol said Shultz overtook and passed the other auto in the westbound lanes, but apparently

House Passes Bill

Ohio Employers Face Rates Hike For Jobless Fund

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Higher rates of contributions to the state unemployment compensation fund appeared in store today for all Ohio employers.

The House Monday night, with the votes of 74 Republicans and two Democrats, sent the measure to the Senate. The final tally, with five Republicans opposing the bill, was 76-56 with 70 favorable votes needed to pass a bill. Narrow as the division was, the Senate division probably will be even narrower.

The unemployment compensation bill overshadowed a legislative day which also saw passage of an administration - backed bill to establish a lobby-control commission. The lobby-control bill also goes to the Senate.

Democrats, while conceding that the jobless benefits fund needs bolstering to meet any future emergency, object to a number of other provisions which limit eligibility for benefits.

The fund, once near the $700 million mark, now holds less than $200 million. That low mark, under the present law, constitutes the danger mark under which the state must increase all contributions one-half of one-per cent—or about $37 million a year. Combined, the rate increase and the automatic increase will put aboue $75 million more in the benefits fund each year.

There was considerable debate Monday night before the House finally "bought" the benefits measure. Both sides gave a little.

But all Democratic attempts to increase the maximum salary on which an employer must contribute to unemployment compensation for a laid-off employe—from $3,000 to $4,800, then from $3,000 to $4,200—were defeated.

Only one Republican and nine Democrats were against a bill to set up the six-member commission to control lobbyists, including public officials.

Before it voted on the measure, the House adopted an amendment which reduces the number of times a registered lobbyist must declare his expenses from the proposed four to three times a year, including the key report within 30 days after the legislature adjourns.

The GOP - sponsored measure was designed, originally, to "throw the book" at departmental directors and other public officials who

Civil Service Board Finds No 'Cheating'

Group Clears Head Of Tax Office After Testimony From 4

The Municipal Civil Service Commission, after a lengthy formal hearing Monday night, issued a statement that it found no evidence that the head of the income tax office furnished a girl employe with a set of questions he had prepared for a clerk-stenographer's exam, as was charged in an anonymous note the commission received Thursday.

The commission took sworn testimony from City Treasurer Bert A. Dawson, overall head of the tax operation; Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson, who operates the office, and Mrs. Ginger Hile and Mrs. Helen Duncan, two members of the staff.

The commission conducted a second hearing into the anonymous charge that Wilkinson furnished to Mrs. Hile a copy of questions which he prepared as a guide to the commission in drafting a written test for a $250-a-month job. She is one of 12 applicants.

The commission's statement said:

"The Civil Service Commission, upon conducting an investigation, has failed to find any evidence that the questions prepared by Mr. Wilkinson were submitted, exhibited or shown to anyone who was an applicant for the examination.

"The commission finds that the sole copy of the questions was turned over to P. K. Calhoon, clerk of the commission. The commission wishes to emphasize that it did not request any questions and did not use any of them in the examination it prepared."

The hearing was conducted by Donal I. Burcham, Clarence E. Reagle and Atty. Ben H. Berman, members of the commission. Calhoon, the clerk, and Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper also were present.

The job test was to have been held last night, but the commission decided last Thursday to postpone it indefinitely pending an investigation of the anonymous charges. After the hearing was concluded, it decided to set the test tentatively for July 17 at 7:30 p. m. The date must be cleared with the Ohio Valley Business College, where the test will be held, Calhoon explained.

The four witnesses remained in an adjoining room before they were called to testify. Each took an oath from Calhoon before assuming the witness chair. Members of the commission alternated in asking questions.

Mrs. Hile, Dawson and Mrs. Duncan were on the stand about five minutes each. Wilkinson was questioned about 15 minutes.

Last night's hearing amounted to a great extent to a reiteration of the facts brought out in a commission meeting last Thursday

Those receiving less than the scheduled salary will get adjustments ranging from $110 to $420 to place them properly on the schedule according to their training and experience, Supt. Ralph H. Jewell said.

The board also granted regular increments and adjustments in the salaries of the clerical and janitorial staffs.

The board also approved the daily time schedule for the next term. It provides for all teachers to report by 8:20 a. m. and the tardy bell for all pupils to sound at 8:40 a. m.

High school pupils will be dismissed at 12:06 p. m. and all others at 11:40 a. m.

The afternoon tardy bell will ring at 12:45 for intermediate pupils, 1 for primary grades and 1:10 for the high school. All classes will be dismissed at 3:45.

Three contracts also were let by the board.

The George Studen Contracting Co. of Midland received the contract for new concrete steps at the 1st St. School on its low bid of $1,177. Two other bids also were received. Mike Keser of Midland asked $1,275 and Shane Brothers of Rochester bid $1,580.

Keser was awarded the contract to replace sections of the high school sidewalk on his bid of $375. The only other bid was submitted by Studen, who asked $437.

The Chalkboard Refacing Co. of Freedom was awarded a contract to refinish blackboards in the elementary schools at a cost of $226.-80.

Miss Bernice Coffin, secretary, was authorized to advertise for bids on a heavy-duty tractor with cutting and snow blades for use at the schools.

Textbooks for next year were ordered at a cost of $8,693.06, and purchase of instructional equipment totaling $2,701.21 was approved.

The board also approved the continuation of the contract with the Nationwide Insurance Co. for student insurance.

The resignations of Donald Magas and Mrs. Ida English were accepted. Both high school faculty members, Magas was a science teacher and Mrs. English was the girls' physical education teacher.

U.S. Team In Cuba For Tractor Deal

Declares Purpose Is To Free 1,200 Of Captured Invaders

HAVANA (AP)—The American mission to exchange tractors for prisoners arrived by air today and was greeted by middle-ranking officials of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government.

The four members of the mission were received at the airport by Major Luis Crespo of the Institute of Agrarian Reform; Enrique Cabre, chief of machinery of the institute, and Fernando Otero, aide to President Osvaldo Dorticos.

The group went from the airport to the Havana Riviera Hotel.

Before leaving Miami the group declared its "humanitarian purpose" is to free 1,200 captured invaders by exchanging 500 tractors fort hem, as originally proposed by Castro.

The four man team of technical experts departed at 5:26 a.m. on the hour's flight to Havana with the avowed hope of working out a satisfactory tractors for prisoners trade in the next couple of days.

Douglas R. Voorhees, a local real estate man known for his vocal advocacy of causes, loudly accused the team of going to Cuba to "submit to ransom, to blackmail."

He charged that the non-governmental team of experts was violating the Logan Act which bars negotiations by private citizens with foreign governments.

Voorhees demanded that the Dade County (Miami) police arrest the U.S. team. The police instead kept Voohees to one side of the departing group but let him talk on.

The Kennedy administration, which supports the Tractors-for-Freedom drive, has told the group it is not violating the Logan Act.

The technical team, while hopeful Castro would quickly agree to a swap because he needs tractors, was apprehensive that the unpredictable prime minister might demand terms unacceptable to the American committee.

Voorhees was the only protestor to show up at the airport through there had been rumors there might be trouble.

The non-government team arrived here from Washington late Monday night amid a brief scare. Local police were tipped that some violent opponents of the prisoners exchange plan would stage an airport protest. The police whisked the experts from their plane to their airport hotel rooms through side tunnels. But the demonstrations never came off.

A spokesman said the U.S. team had no specific appointment to meet with Castro personally in Havana.

In a pre-departure statement, the American group said it was on a humanitarian mission to conduct technical negotiations and would have nothing more to say publicly before its planned return to the United States Thursday.

The technical delegation has limited powers to negotiate within terms set by its parent Tractors-for-Freedom Committee of prominent U.S. citizens.

At least 18 persons died from accidental injuries. They included nine in traffic, three by drowning three in fires and three in miscellaneous accidents.

In the miscellaneous category were a jet pilot whose Air Force interceptor crashed near Dayton, a Fremont lineman electrocuted while working on a power pole, and a Barberton girl whose foot was cut when she fell from a riding-type lawnmower and she developed a fatal infection.

In addition to the state deaths, at least two Ohioans died in out-of-state traffic accidents—one in Indiana and one in Georgia.

Monday's fatalities by category:

Traffic:

Frank Moody, 57, his wife, Mary, 57, and their son, James, 16, Lorain, when their car and another collided head-on there.

Mrs. Wellie Warner, 64, Rt. 1, Pickerington, when her husband's car and another collided nearly head-on at the angular intersection of Ohio 188 and 256 about 10½ miles northeast of Lancaster, injuring eight others including five children.

Senate Gives Housing Bill Huge Margin

Encouragement Is Given Kennedy As House Fight Looms

WASHINGTON (AP)—A thumping 64-25 Senate passage for the $6.14-billion housing bill gave encouragement to the Kennedy administration today over the House floor fight expected in a few days.

The House Rules Committee is to meet on the legislation Thursday and is expected to clear it for debate starting next week.

Fifty-two Democrats and 12 Republicans supported the measure on final passage in the Senate Monday, with 17 Republicans and 8 Southern Democrats opposed.

This was the heaviest margin piled up in the Senate for any of the major items on President Kennedy's 1961 legislative program.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., chief sponsor of the bill, told a reporter he felt that with enactment of this measure there would be no need for omnibus housing legislation next year and perhaps for a longer time.

But Sparkman pointed out that in the 1961 bill for the first time such key programs as urban renewal, public housing, farm housing, college dormitories, and veterans' housing are being put on a long-term basis.

Another Alabaman, Democratic Rep. Albert Rains, will serve as floor manager for the legislation in the House. The bill approved by the House Banking Committee is substantially similar to the Senate version.

No Relief Due In Heat Wave After 90 High

Temperatures will soar to around 90 again today as the season's first heat wave showed no signs of a break with scattered thundershowers through Wednesday expected to add to the humidity.

Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, predicted June 3 after a summary of a cold May that Tri-State residents could look forward "to steady 90-degree readings during the summer."

You might say summer arrived suddenly as the mercury jumped to 90 Monday and the Ohio weatherman forecast 85 to 90 today with a low of only 66 to 71 tonight.

The Ohio Weather Bureau said the heat is being generated over the southeastern states and will continue tomorrow, at least, when there may be more numerous thundershowers.

Residents along Lake Erie will get some cooling breezes tomorrow but the Ohio Valley will continue to swelter. Most of Ohio will sizzle near 90 this afternoon.

The Stratton Super-dam reported a high of 90 yesterday afternoon at 4 after a steady rise in the mercury with readings of 78 at 10 a. m. and 89 at 1 p. m. The temperature was slow to fall. It was 88 at 7 p. m., 86 at 10 p. m. and 72 at 1 a. m. today. The overnight low was 68.

Cincinnati had the state's high with a 94 yesterday afternoon. Cleveland, Toledo and Marietta had 91.

Hundreds went to district parks yesterday for relief.

Joe Foley, 46, was the pilot, and Fr. Michael C. Kushner, 41, a passenger.

The hospital said Foley suffered compound fractures of both arms and both legs, multiple fractures of the face and chest and a fractured back. Because he still is in shock, the hospital listed his condition as "fair."

Fr. Kushner received multiple fractured ribs, cuts and bruises. He is in "satisfactory" condition, the hospital said.

Aliquippa police said the plane's engine became heated as they were en route from Steubenville to Butler and they landed at the private field used for small aircraft.

Police said the pair waited about a half an hour and then took off. The plane's engine sputtered out shortly after it got off the ground and the plane nose dived into the trees, officers said.

Rescuers had to cut the two men free from the wreckage. Police said the plane was badly damaged.

Fr. Kushner is pastor of St. Mary's Byzantine Catholic Church of Weirton.

Declares Purpose Is To Free 1,200 Of Captured Invaders

HAVANA (AP)—The American mission to exchange tractors for prisoners arrived by air today and was greeted by middle-ranking officials of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government.

The four members of the mission were received at the airport by Major Luis Crespo of the Institute of Agrarian Reform; Enrique Cabre, chief of machinery of the institute, and Fernando Otero, aide to President Osvaldo Dorticos.

The group went from the airport to the Havana Riviera Hotel.

Before leaving Miami the group declared its "humanitarian purpose" is to free 1,200 captured invaders by exchanging 500 tractors fort hem, as originally proposed by Castro.

The four man team of technical experts departed at 5:26 a.m. on the hour's flight to Havana with the avowed hope of working out a satisfactory tractors for prisoners trade in the next couple of days.

Douglas R. Voorhees, a local real estate man known for his vocal advocacy of causes, loudly accused the team of going to Cuba to "submit to ransom, to blackmail."

He charged that the non-governmental team of experts was violating the Logan Act which bars negotiations by private citizens with foreign governments.

Voorhees demanded that the Dade County (Miami) police arrest the U.S. team. The police instead kept Voohees to one side of the departing group but let him talk on.

The Kennedy administration, which supports the Tractors-for-Freedom drive, has told the group it is not violating the Logan Act.

The technical team, while hopeful Castro would quickly agree to a swap because he needs tractors, was apprehensive that the unpredictable prime minister might demand terms unacceptable to the American committee.

Voorhees was the only protestor to show up at the airport through there had been rumors there might be trouble.

The non-government team arrived here from Washington late Monday night amid a brief scare. Local police were tipped that some violent opponents of the prisoners exchange plan would stage an airport protest. The police whisked the experts from their plane to their airport hotel rooms through side tunnels. But the demonstrations never came off.

A spokesman said the U.S. team had no specific appointment to meet with Castro personally in Havana.

In a pre-departure statement, the American group said it was on a humanitarian mission to conduct technical negotiations and would have nothing more to say publicly before its planned return to the United States Thursday.

The technical delegation has limited powers to negotiate within terms set by its parent Tractors-for-Freedom Committee of prominent U.S. citizens.

Since 1939 he has been in charge of the department's Lisbon office and has been project engineer on the recent four-lane relocation of State Route 7 along the Ohio River from Yellow Creek to East Liverpool.

Gonzales is a life-long resident of the County, graduating from

By The Associated Press

At least 18 persons died from accidental injuries. They included nine in traffic, three by drowning three in fires and three in miscellaneous accidents.

In the miscellaneous category were a jet pilot whose Air Force interceptor crashed near Dayton, a Fremont lineman electrocuted while working on a power pole, and a Barberton girl whose foot was cut when she fell from a riding-type lawnmower and she developed a fatal infection.

In addition to the state deaths, at least two Ohioans died in out-of-state traffic accidents—one in Indiana and one in Georgia.

Monday's fatalities by category:

Traffic:

Frank Moody, 57, his wife, Mary, 57, and their son, James, 16, Lorain, when their car and another collided head-on there.

Mrs. Wellie Warner, 64, Rt. 1, Pickerington, when her husband's car and another collided nearly head-on at the angular intersection of Ohio 188 and 256 about 10½ miles northeast of Lancaster, injuring eight others including five children.

Robert C. O'Neill, 22, Cleves, when his car left U.S. 60 in Hamilton County near the Indiana border, clipped off a utility pole and landed in a ditch.

Mrs. Edna Arnold, 83, Lancaster, of injuries received Sunday in a two-car collision on U.S. 33 about 3½ miles north of Lancaster, in which her husband, William, 70, was killed outright.

Senate Gives Housing Bill Huge Margin

Encouragement Is Given Kennedy As House Fight Looms

WASHINGTON (AP)—A thumping 64-25 Senate passage for the $6.14-billion housing bill gave encouragement to the Kennedy administration today over the House floor fight expected in a few days.

The House Rules Committee is to meet on the legislation Thursday and is expected to clear it for debate starting next week.

Fifty-two Democrats and 12 Republicans supported the measure on final passage in the Senate Monday, with 17 Republicans and 8 Southern Democrats opposed.

This was the heaviest margin piled up in the Senate for any of the major items on President Kennedy's 1961 legislative program.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., chief sponsor of the bill, told a reporter he felt that with enactment of this measure there would be no need for omnibus housing legislation next year and perhaps for a longer time.

But Sparkman pointed out that in the 1961 bill for the first time such key programs as urban renewal, public housing, farm housing, college dormitories, and veterans' housing are being put on a long-term basis.

Another Alabaman, Democratic Rep. Albert Rains, will serve as floor manager for the legislation in the House. The bill approved by the House Banking Committee is substantially similar to the Senate version.

No Relief Due In Heat Wave After 90 High

Temperatures will soar to around 90 again today as the season's first heat wave showed no signs of a break with scattered thundershowers through Wednesday expected to add to the humidity.

Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, predicted June 3 after a summary of a cold May that Tri-State residents could look forward "to steady 90-degree readings during the summer."

You might say summer arrived suddenly as the mercury jumped to 90 Monday and the Ohio weatherman forecast 85 to 90 today with a low of only 66 to 71 tonight.

The Ohio Weather Bureau said the heat is being generated over the southeastern states and will continue tomorrow, at least, when there may be more numerous thundershowers.

Residents along Lake Erie will get some cooling breezes tomorrow but the Ohio Valley will continue to swelter. Most of Ohio will sizzle near 90 this afternoon.

The Stratton Super-dam reported a high of 90 yesterday afternoon at 4 after a steady rise in the mercury with readings of 78 at 10 a. m. and 89 at 1 p. m. The temperature was slow to fall. It was 88 at 7 p. m., 86 at 10 p. m. and 72 at 1 a. m. today. The overnight low was 68.

Cincinnati had the state's high with a 94 yesterday afternoon. Cleveland, Toledo and Marietta had 91.

Hundreds went to district parks yesterday for relief.

2 Of Weirton Suffer Injury In Air Crash

Joe Foley, 46, was the pilot, and Fr. Michael C. Kushner, 41, a passenger.

The hospital said Foley suffered compound fractures of both arms and both legs, multiple fractures of the face and chest and a fractured back. Because he still is in shock, the hospital listed his condition as "fair."

Fr. Kushner received multiple fractured ribs, cuts and bruises. He is in "satisfactory" condition, the hospital said.

Aliquippa police said the plane's engine became heated as they were en route from Steubenville to Butler and they landed at the private field used for small aircraft.

Police said the pair waited about a half an hour and then took off. The plane's engine sputtered out shortly after it got off the ground and the plane nose dived into the trees, officers said.

Rescuers had to cut the two men free from the wreckage. Police said the plane was badly damaged.

Fr. Kushner is pastor of St. Mary's Byzantine Catholic Church of Weirton.

$600 Allotted On Deficit Of Lisbon Pool

LISBON — The transfer of $600 from the general fund to the Sadie VanFossan Swimming Pool fund was authorized by Council Monday night.

The need for supplementing pool funds stemmed from adverse weather conditions this month which slowed the customary sale of season tickets, it was reported.

Council also transferred $200 from the general fund to the Civil Defense fund, which had only $37. The CD expenses have been amounting to about $16 a month.

George Reigel of Spruce St. reported an open sewer in the area and said the stench has become very strong during the current hot weather. Mayor Dean Stockman said the street committee and Board of Trustees of public affairs are planning to remedy it.

Walter Zeitler, 81 Morrison St., reported the street has no markers and that a street light is needed near the railroad tracks. Mayor Stockman said the street committee and lighting committee will study the requests.

Elmer Tullis of Morrison and Maple Sts. reported water is backing up from a utility pole in the gutter, and flooding lawns and the street in heavy rains. He also reported need for street improvement on Morrison St. Mayor Stockman advised him the requests will be studied.

The street committee filed a suggestion that the solicitor, mayor and the street committee prepare legislation governing control and authorization for street fairs in the village. The Lisbon Lions Club was granted permission to hold such a fair this year, but the committee proposed that definite policy be established.

Council authorized erection of signs pointing a public walking route from Thomas Rd. to the swimming pool. Residents of Sunset Dr. have complained that youngsters walk across lawns en route to the pool. An alley right-of-way, unused in recent years, will be utilized.

Payment of bills amounting to $4,840 was authorized. Next meeting is July 10.

sought to influence the progress of public legislation, for or against. The upshot, however, was that the House gave a prosecution-free holiday to those officials who violate the law against lobbying by transgressing the line between "information" to legislators and active support or opposition to a bill.

Rep. Charles A. Mooney Jr., D-Cuyahoga, while supporting a bill to limit lobbying, assured legislators the bill is not desired to keep lawmakers from accepting lobbyists' hospitality for meals.

As lawmakers began their 24th work week, senators dashed through an eight-bill calendar to clear the docket for House bills. The fast action came as the House defeated a bill to provide for exterior illumination of the State Office Building. The bill, already passed by the Senate, died in its tracks.

Provide workmen's compensation coverage for apprentices during non-working study time on a voluntary basis.

Permit county commissioners to publish one progress and activity report a year.

The Senate also passed and sent to the House bills to:

Permit the State of Ohio to lay claim to dividends on privately issued stocks and bonds which have gone unclaimed two years.

Let Ohio claim government bonds and other federal property if the last known owner was an Ohioan.

When you are using sliced canned mushrooms as the filling for an omelet, you'll find the mushroom flavor will be improved if you drain the slices and saute them with a chopped onion.

Weirton Doctor Cited For Statewide Honors

CHARLESTON (AP) — Dr. Myer Bogarad of Weirton has been named West Virginia's "General Practitioner of the Year" for 1961.

The selection was announced today by the Council of the West Virginia State Medical Association from a field of four nominees submitted by component societies.

Dr. Bogarad now becomes eligible for the national title. His name will be certified to the AMA in Chicago for consideration by its board of trustees.

After graduating from Western Reserve University and receiving his M.D. degree from the St. Louis University School of Medicine in 1928, Bogarad served an internship in Pittsburgh and moved to Weirton.

He has practiced medicine in that city for more than 30 years. During this time he has taken an active interest in both medical and civic organizations.

He is a past president of the Hancock County Medical Society and the Fort Steuben Academy of Medicine. He also helped organize the Ohio Valley Chapter of the West Virginia Academy of General Practice.

After serving for three years as treasurer of the West Virginia Chapter, AAGP, Bogarad was installed as president at an annual meeting in Charleston in 1959.

Following completion of the new Weirton General Hospital, he was named the first president of the medical staff. During the past 20 years he has served as medical examiner and adviser for the Hancock County Draft Board.

Scarbeck Long-Time Employe

U.S. Aide Under Arrest For Giving Data To Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Irvin Chambers Scarbeck, an American foreign service officer, was arrested here today on charges of turning over national security information to the Communist government of Poland.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, who announced the arrest, said FBI agents took Scarbeck into custody on a Washington street.

Scarbeck, a long-time employe of the State Department, has been serving as second secretary in the American Embassy at Warsaw. He returned here a week ago.

Scarbeck, 41, is a native of Brooklyn, N.Y. He attended the College of the City of New York and New York University from 1936 to 1939.

Twice married, he has four children.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said Scarbeck was arrested on a warrant charging that from January through May of this year he transmitted classified information "affecting the security of the United States" to an agent of the Peoples Republic of Poland.

The FBI investigation, Hoover said, was based on information initially developed by the security office of the American Embassy in Warsaw.

The Justice Department did not disclose the nature of the information Scarbeck is accused of passing to the Poles.

Conviction under the charges lodged against Scarbeck carries a fine of $10,000, 10 years imprisonment or both.

Scarbeck was first employed by the State Department in July 1952 and was assigned here until 1954 when he was transferred to San Francisco.

East Liverpool High School. He attended Muskingum College and Ohio State University, after which he served in World War I with the 83rd Division in France from 1917 until 1919.

Following his discharge from the Army, he applied for a job with the Columbiana County engineer's office in March of 1920 and was given a position of rodman on a survey party. He said his entry into engineering work was principally because this was the only job available at the time.

At the time Gonzales started work, the county engineer, H. C. Armstrong, was also resident engineer for the state. Thus, he has been involved in construction of state highways since that time.

In 1935 he joined the State Highway Department as assistant engineer, passing the Civil Service examination.

Before the present state registration laws, it was necessary for a person wishing to qualify as an engineer with the highway department to pass this test.

Gonzales became acting resident engineer for the department in Carroll and Columbiana Counties in 1939. This position placed him in charge of the state's highway construction in those counties. His office has been in Lisbon during this time with a force averaging about 12 men helping supervise construction to assure that projects are built according to state specifications.

The only time when he has not worked in Columbiana County was in the late 30's when he spent about a year and a half in the department's location and design office in Columbus. During that period he worked with many of the men who are now in responsible executive positions in the department's central office.

His latest project has been on the beginning phases of the East Liverpool expressway.

Gonzales intends to pursue his hobby of photography and to have more time to visit his daughter, Mrs. Earl Raley, of Westerville and two grandsons.

Division and state highway officials will be guests at the event tonight at 6:30, along with his county crew.

Council Plans Note Issue At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Legislation to provide funds to pay for a new utility building at the Woodlawn Cemetery was ordered prepared by Council at a meeting Monday night.

Discussion was held on the structure recently completed at the cemetery, and the solicitor will draw up legislation providing for issuance of notes, to be paid off in six years.

Council had thought the Cemeter Board would assist.

Mayor Kenneth Leishman reported the need for repairs or replacement of catch basins in the West End, E. Main St. and Foundry Hill.

Ernest Madison, assistant water works superintendent, requested Council assistance in filling an abandoned well near the water works. Council approved hauling of red dog for fill, with the Board of Public Affairs paying for the street department labor.

Police Chief Cleo Mellott, who resides at the City Hall, reported the building's roof still leaks despite recent authorization for repairs. The building committee is to request Lloyd Weaver to report on plans for the repair.

Chief Mellott's request for repairs to the clutch of the police cruiser was referred to the safety committee.

Councilman Joseph Knight asked Chief Mellott if such great mileage is needed in patrol work. The chief said he would reduce patrol if Council directed.

Mayor Leishman reported on his talks with the Water Pollution Control Board at Columbus last week, and said with legislation curbing the board's enforcement power and change in plans for the site of a planned sewage disposal site in Salineville, there would be a delay in plans for the project.

Knight reported the need for repairs at an alley near the home of Charles Sweeney of E. Main St.

Pete Growall, street supervisor, was instructed to make the repairs and to deliver wooden poles donated by Mayor Leishman for a small bridge in the West End.

Chief Mellott's request for repairs to the clutch of the police cruiser was referred to the safety committee.

Councilman Joseph Knight asked Chief Mellott if such great mileage is needed in patrol work. The chief said he would reduce patrol if Council directed.

Mayor Leishman reported on his talks with the Water Pollution Control Board at Columbus last week, and said with legislation curbing the board's enforcement power and change in plans for the site of a planned sewage disposal site in Salineville, there would be a delay in plans for the project.

Knight reported the need for repairs at an alley near the home of Charles Sweeney of E. Main St.

Board Clears Test Charges

afternoon and a statement issued Saturday by Dawson.

Briefly, everyone agreed on these facts: When Council created a new clerk-stenographer's job and it developed a Civil Service test would be held to fill it, Atty. Berman and Calhoon asked Dawson to request that Wilkinson draw up a list of the employe's duties as a guide to preparing the test.

But Wilkinson apparently misunderstood and instead of drawing up a job description he drafted 19 questions — but no answers — that he thought would serve as a guide to the commission in preparing its test. Then he gave them to Calhoon.

That's where the general agreement ends.

Dawson took the stand last night principally to explain that he asked Wilkinson to write a brief description of the job's duties. Wilkinson testified he prepared sample questions, apparently as a result of misunderstanding Dawson's instructions.

The anonymous note the commission received charged that Wilkinson gave a copy of the questions and answers to Mrs. Hile.

Wilkinson repeated last night that he drafted the questions in longhand at home and that no one except himself — "not even my wife" — saw them before they were turned over to Calhoon. He described how Mrs. Hile typed the letter of transmittal that was with the questions when he handed them to Calhoon in person.

Wilkinson said he kept the questions in the pocket of the coat he was wearing and they never were out of his possession. He said he drafted the letter of transmittal in longhand and asked Mrs. Hile to type it "because she was the only one who wasn't busy at the time."

About that time, Calhoon walked into the tax office and Wilkinson asked him to wait a moment until the letter was finished, he said. Then he signed the letter, attached the questions and handed it to Calhoon with a joke about "saving four cents" in postage, he related.

"Has anyone in the tax office given you any information on the examination, either verbally or otherwise?" Burcham asked Mrs. Hile.

"No," she replied.

"There are rumors you have been supplied with the questions," Reagle said.

"That's a lie!" Mrs. Hile replied heatedly.

The questioning of Mrs. Duncan was very brief. After describing her duties and the length of service, she was asked by Burcham:

"Have you ever heard this examination was going to be fixed or that any questions were passsed out?"

"No," she replied.

Wilkinson reiterated that he drafted the questions "as a guide" to the commission and did not intend that they would be used in the test.

"The commission wants to know how these stories got started," Atty. Berman said.

"I think the commission should find who typed the anonymous note," Wilkinson said. "I think that will give you the answer."

Later, he said he hopes the commission "will find the typewriter on which the note was prepared and the person who wrote it."

"I think we will," Reagle replied.

The note was prepared on a typewriter with an unusual type face and on paper that bears a readily-discernible watermark.

Reagle asked if there might be "someone in the office who is a little on the jealous side and might have written the note."

"There's only two reasons I can think of — that somebody was trying to build a political fire under Mr. Dawson or myself or that someone was trying to get my job," Wilkinson replied.

Wilkinson said he could think of only one incident that might have started the reports. He said that on an occasion about a month ago when the entire office staff and two consultants were present, he talked about preparing questions for the Civil Service exam.

"I took a pad of paper and wrote four or five questions and passed them around to the girls and asked them if they thought they would be too difficult," Wilkinson said. "The three or four girls and the two men all saw the questions, then they were thrown away.

"Mrs. Hile has been preparing very hard and studying for this exam. She has asked me a lot of questions that might come up — about wards, precincts, councilmen and the names of our state senators. She asked them in front of everyone. That's the only possible explanation I can think of for how the story got started."

"The story must have come out of your office," Atty. Berman said.

"Either our office or someone within earshot of it," Wilkinson replied.

Wilkinson pointed out that Mrs. Hile already has a permanent job on the staff in unclassified service "so she has nothing to gain or lose if she fails or passes the exam."

"Before the job was created, I was asked by one of the councilmen if he could be assured a Democrat would be named," Wilkinson said. "I replied I didn't care whether it was a Republican or a Democrat so long as the appointee was qualified and an efficient worker."

The commission's hearing ended shortly after 9. About an hour later, it had agreed upon the tentative date for the exam.

Last night also marked the deadline for applications for a test for prospective firemen which the commission will conduct June 27. Sixteen applications were filed before the deadline. The commission said they will be screened later. The department has no vacancies at present. Names of men who pass will go onto an eligibility list.

Maybe Argentina Has An Idea

One of the things Adlai E. Stevenson is reported to have been told in Buenos Aires is that the United States should quit holding a spotlight on Fidel Castro.

That is what Castro wants most, in the opinion of government officials in Argentina. What he wants least is an economic isolation in Latin America that would make him absolutely dependent on the Soviet Union, because Moscow would not bail him out of his trouble.

But under no circumstances should the isolation be done in a way that would make Castro a martyr; that, too, would serve his purposes. Argentinians are confident the hardest blow he could be given would be to let him talk to himself while the United States cultivated its friends in Latin America.

WE DON'T KNOW whether Ambassador Stevenson will relay this advice to Washington, or whether Washington will receive it favorably. But we do know that the toughest luck that can befall a public figure is to drop off the front pages of newpapers and out of the bulletin news of the newscasters.

All public figures, whether they are in politics or show business, must keep their names and reputations in view or perish.

Fidel Castro has stayed in the news since he overthrew the Batista regime more than two and a half years ago. Pictures and news about his speeches and acts have made him a household word.

Not too long ago the same thing could have been said about Gamel Abdel Nasser. In 1956, a year during which he dominated the news, he made even Castro look like a piker in his best news-making year.

YET TODAY no one is particularly concerned about Nasser. He is still wavering between the Kremlin and any other source of power that shows any promise of helping him to carry on his ticklish project of political survival.

Most of the momentous things it was feared he might do didn't get done, such as patching together a federation of like-minded nations dedicated to destruction of Israel. Nasser, it finally was concluded, was subject to the law that all men who dress standing up must get into their pants one leg at a time.

Argentinians may have discovered something about Castro that wouldn't be visible in North America, where he is heard about every hour on the hour—that the fearsomeness of the bearded Cuban is largely the product of incessant publicity.

Somewhere Between The Two

Comments about President Kennedy's back ailment have been fluctating wildly between the trivial and the solemn.

Plainly, there are some who are in a mood to fear the worst and some who are in a mood to dismiss the ailment with a shrug.

Somewhere between these two extremes is where most Americans want to be in discussions of presidential health. They have learned that their chief executives are not immune to physical weakness, but in so doing they have learned it is easy to exaggerate the meaning of bad news about presidential health.

We never admired the carpers, some with access to newsprint and others with access to radio and television, who poured it on Dwight D. Eisenhower for seeking relaxation on the golf course. We admired them less than ever when it turned out that President Kennedy was playing more golf than Mr. Eisenhower had played in a similar period without being charged with anything out of the ordinary.

Our conviction is that a man on duty for decision-making every minute of his years in office needs to break the tension as often as he can. Even on the golf course, or sailing, or fishing, a president of the United States is subject to instant call. He never is out of touch. He never "gets away from it all."

At the moment, the prevailing comment about President Kennedy's ailing back is that the man is putting in too much time on the job and not giving himself a decent break.

His friends are concerned about the possibility he may be trying to bear more of the burden of his office than it is physically possible for any man to bear. Some of us have felt this same concern for previous presidents and have wanted them to pace themselves.

It may cross the minds of some of Mr. Kennedy's friends one day soon that their young man's predecessor, having borne responsibility for a few pretty big operations in his day, knew a few things about relaxation that a man must learn for himself.

They criticized Mr. Eisenhower for delegating authority and running a staff organization. Their man, they explained, had promised to take care of everything himself.

More power to him and good luck with his sore back, which might have been well by now if he had stayed still long enough to give it a chance.

Keep Out Violence

Those who scoff at efforts toward clean government with the comment, "What harm is there in a little gambling?" have received another bloody answer in the shotgun slaying of Mike Farah, notorious Trumbull County racketeer.

A "little gambling" generally leads to "big gambling", with the rackets moving in. Once the rackets get a foothold, real trouble begins.

There has been some gambling in Columbiana County over the years, but fortunately it has fallen into the category of "small time".

Gambling in any form can't be condoned and every effort should be made to erase it all. The major objective, however, is to see that the rackets don't move into the county. Constant vigilance by the sheriff's office and police departments in the various communities can continue to keep out the violence that has plagued our neighbors.

Nearby Hancock County in West Virginia, however, has cause for concern. It has been running wide open for some time, with at least one of the clubs now in operation unquestionably "big time". Hancock has escaped major violence to date, but there is no telling when the lid might blow off. You can't keep playing with fire without eventually getting burned.

Anthony Eden Misses The Point

Sir Anthony Eden had been out of the news since his resignation as British prime minister in 1957, until he made a speech at a political rally recently. His subject brought him back to attention in a hurry.

From four to six governments of the Free World, he proposed, should form a political general staff to offset the Communist Conspiracy. Translated into plain language, there should be a Free World Conspiracy.

The idea is attractive until it is realized that the Free World cannot form a conspiracy; it is a contradiction in terms to use the two ideas. It is doubtful if even the Communists can form a workable conspiracy. They have failed as between the Soviet Union and the Chinese People's Republic.

In the Free World there couldn't even be an attempt, because there is no central authority. Governments can and will share common aspirations. They can reach common agreements. They can move in parallel directions. But only in war, and then only tenuously, can they lend themselves to common policies.

Sir Anthony, himself, had this brought home to him when he reaped the whirlwind of his Suez decision, which he shared with an ill-fated government in France. He could not be stopped, but neither could the consequences of his decision to blunder ahead.

There will be no conspiracy in behalf of freedom. There will be loose agreements imperfectly honored, like the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. There will be lip service to international organizations like the United Nations. But there cannot be anything like the Communist Conspiracy, which purports to exercise international discipline based on decrees made by proletarian dictatorships.

That is what the Free World is fighting, not imitating.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Ex-President Truman is to do 26 TV shows. (This kills the belief there is anything in TV promise to curb violence.) Harry could be billed as "Mister Fireworks" on basis of his performance since he closed White House production and took himself around country as a road-show. He has gusto, color, punch and a sense of humor. There is much "ham" in him and from the day he left Washington he has followed a "The show must go on" policy.

Some TV fans have been looking for a show that would combine elements of "Have Gun, Will Travel," "Cheyenne," and "Tombstone Territory" with elements of public service, wrestling and comedy programs. This could be it. He says his 26 shows will review historic events during and since his administration. Big night should come when he gets around to discussing General Eisenhower's and General MacArthur's part in historic episodes. This one could be rougher than "The Untouchables."

UP TO NOW our retired rulers have kept largely out of public eye. In olden days question "What shall we do with our ex-presidents?" was never answered by "Put them in vaudeville." But putting them in TV now seems proper. If trend continues we may yet see former White House occupants doing flying-trapeze acts or heading troupes of acrobats on Ed Sullivan shows. "From Log Cabin To White House" may be replaced by "From White House To Alfred Hitchcock Replacement."

Harry will be first chief executive to get reviews from "Variety," "TV Guide" and "Billboard." We wish him success. But a lot depends on whether there are many Republican critics doing TV columns.

Bernard Goldfine got a year and day in prison, $110,000 fine and five years on probation from Judge George C. Sweeney, with understanding that during probation he must reveal all date on cash transactions in his textile operations. Impersonating Santa Claus too loosely caused his troubles and in Danbury hoosegow he may recite:

To Be Forewarned . . .

U.S. Reds Fear Security Act Ruling

By Victor Riesel

A brilliant, secretly Communist lawyer is the legal "higher up" covertly directing the fight of the Communist party, Section U.S.A., against the Supreme Court. During quiet and hidden New York City meetings with carefully chosen party leaders, he and other trusted lawyers, also comrades, have been more deeply disturbed by the little known Sec. 1 of the Internal Security Act than by the ruling that the party must register and disclose its members.

Victor Riesel

Of course, the party will not make its membership cards public. It destroyed them long ago. What worries them are the anti-Communist sanctions of Sec. 1. These can destroy their anti-government underground apparatus which operates today in some federal agencies and defense plants and installations.

As soon as the Supreme Court ruling finally becomes operative, for example, Secretary of Defense McNamara shall proclaim a list of defense areas. These could range from a single feeder plant for some missile to entire harbors and sections of land such as Cape Canaveral.

Communist party members, under the law, are prohibited from working anywhere in such installations without declaring themselves.

FAILURE to expose themselves automatically becomes a crime. This is punishable by heavy fines ranging upward of $10,000 and many years in jail.

But, say you, why should they expose themselves if there is no registration and no party membership card file? Because —they can never know in advance that the man or woman sitting alongside them in some party cell is not a federal agent who can testify that they are active and secret Communist party members.

With this in mind, I point to another sanction of Sec. 1. The law says no Communist party member can be a union official. This leaves scores of party men in New York, Chicago and on the West Coast in a dilemma.

There is sworn evidence that such party men are in some communications fields, in land and sea transportation and in warehousing. Now they must either quit or commit a crime by retaining their union office.

Nor can Communist party members, if the Supreme Court decision isn't balked or delayed, work for the government. They are especially forbidden to handle classified material — documents or equipment.

Basically there is no such cauterizing law now.

SEC. 1 also hits at the party's own international apparatus. Several hundred Communists will have to turn in their passports. The 1950 law states that party members are prohibited from carrying such federal travel documents.

This means that hundreds of them will not be able to travel to Moscow or to international conferences in Europe, Asia, Africa or even Cuba.

These are just a few of the sanctions but they explain the party's drive to prevent finalization of the ruling. If the law becomes operative, every government agency moves immediately.

Since the court will adjourn on or about June 30, the government would have the chance to move against the party members even if there is a stay by one judge this summer.

THE GOVERNMENT would act on all fronts at once. Thus the government could expose the party's secret infiltrators while the party's legal brains wait for rulings to prevent this. The tables, as they say in the movies, will have turned.

Thus the basic purpose of the party will have been frustrated. What this is can best be seen in a recent statement by a Communist official, Robert Thompson, who wrote to his people that:

"In devoting central attention to this aspect of our vanguard role, our party is not motivated by the simple desire to place its members in positions from which they can sell party literature or recruit new members. It is motivated primarily by the consideration of helping to achieve victories in those economic, political and ideological struggles which advance the class interest of the American working class."

He means, in his strange jargon: Comrades, the day of passing leaflets is virtually over. We must infiltrate strategically. Numbers are not important. Command positions are.

That's why the law worries them.

Letters To The Editor

Flag Day — June 14 — reminds us again of our opportunity as members of the American Legion Auxiliary to stimulate American patriotism by the display of the flag of the United States of America.

Going back to our country's first days, there is some difference of opinion as to the actual origin of the American flag. The most widely accepted story, of course, though it has no proven historical basis, is the story of Betsy Ross. Since we have no proof of any other person making the first flag, we keep the story of Betsy Ross as sort of a legend. We like the story, even though we are not sure of its historical accuracy.

We are, however, sure of one thing. We are sure that the flag stands for all of us and all of the things which make America a great, free nation. The flag is a symbol of our national unity. It symbolizes the spirit of our undying devotion to our country.

It stands for the best that is in us — for loyalty, character and faith in democracy. It represents the height of achievement; the ideals to which generations have aspired. Our flag is no holiday flag representing a ruling family but rather it is a national symbol. Our flag carries American ideas. It represents American history and American feelings. It stands for the supreme idea — the divine right of liberty in man.

Let us dedicate ourselves to the work of rekindling a burning devotion to the principles and ideals upon which our nation was founded. Let every home and public building proudly display the flag on all holidays — especially on June 14, the birthday of our flag, and on July 4, the birthday of our nation.

As we see our flag floating high in the breeze, our minds will be forming a thought-picture of the nation itself. We picture "Faith" as represented by a little band of Pilgrims more than three centuries ago who left their homes at the risk of their lives, braved stormy sees, so that they might find freedom to worship their Creator as they saw fit.

We see the signing of the Declaration of Independence from tyrannical rule — we see Washington at Valley Forge — Lawrence aboard the Chesapeake calling "Don't give up the ship" — MacArthur's "I shall return!" — Eisenhower establishing a beach head — Pershing's "doughboys" longing for home — Flanders Fields with white croses row on row — the Alamo — Corregidor — Pearl Harbor — the Monitor and the Merrimac — Korea and Gettysburg — Bataan — Iow Jima — Omaha Beach. . . .

In the background of our thought-picture we see Old Glory on the capitol dome and each of us utters a prayer from deep within our hearts for America's continued freedom.

Paying tribute to our flag, Calvin Coolidge once said:

"When people of the Colonies were defending their liberties against the might of kings, they chose their banner from the design set in the firmament for all eternity.

"The flags of the great empires of that day are gone, but the Stars and Stripes remain. It pictures the vision of a people whose eyes were turning to the rising dawn. It represents the hope of a father for his posterity. It was never flaunted for the glory of royalty, but to be born under it is to be the child of a king and to establish a home under it is to be the founder of a royal house. Alone of all flags it expresses the sovereignty of the people which endures when all else passes."

As we go about our daily tasks, may we renew our pledge to dedicate our lives to those principles for which our flag stands. "One Nation under God, Indivisible with Liberty and Justice for All".

Mistakes At Vienna?

By David Lawrence

Kennedy Ignores Plan For 'Quiet Diplomacy'

Did President Kennedy make a mistake in the timing of his visit with Nikita Khrushchev? Should he have delayed at least a year and should he have consented to a meeting alone for several hours with the Soviet premier at which no stenographic record was made of what was said?

David Lawrence

Also, why didn't Mr. Kennedy disclose to the American people the two documents which the Soviet government presented at the Vienna conference and now is making public of its own accord?

These questions are asked because it is announced that in a few days the Soviet premier is to present a report to the Soviet people giving his own interpretation of the long discussions at Vienna.

Also, it is pertinent to inquire why as early as Feb. 22—only a month after his inauguration—President Kennedy sent a letter to Premier Khrushchev paving the way for the meeting at Vienna.

At that time Mr. Kennedy could neither have become familiar with all the background of previous negotiations as recorded in the file of reports from our ambassadors abroad to the State Department in the last several years nor had he spent very much time getting at first hand Mr. Eisenhower's impressions of Nikita Khrushchev's tactics. Yet the preceding president had access to every bit of information gathered by intelligence sources in the last several years.

Mr. Kennedy established a precedent in his long periods of conference along with the Soviet premier. Such a conference means a lot of risks for the country.

Thus, the words of an ambassador are constantly subject to review by his superiors. They can be disavowed or their meaning softened or hardened as the case may be.

When a president speaks, however, every word is authoritative and final. It represents a commitment and is part of a historic negotiation, even though for political or other reasons the tendency in official statements is to claim that what Mr. Kennedy said to Mr. Khrushchev was not a "negotiation" but a "discussion."

How could Mr. Kennedy, with his cursory knowledge of the official records of the State Department, safely make any statement orally in talking with Mr. Khrushchev without months and months of briefing beforehand by American experts familiar with Russian affairs?

Even those American experts now resident in this counitry are at a disadvantage. Thus, Mr. Khrushchev's problems are not publicized in the Soviet press. If he is catering to or defying an opposition, there is little opportunity for American observers to know just what the latest opposition viewpoint is and how much influence it happens to have with the Soviet premier in shaping his policies.

HOW MANY American officials know intimately the background of Kremlin policy over the years or the environment in the Ukraine, for instance, which has played such a controlling part in Mr. Khrushchev's life and method of operation?

Yet an American president with no previous experience at all in international conferences ventures forth to a "summit" meeting and then proclaims to the world afterward on a nationwide television network that "no major decision was either planned or taken."

In the same address, moreover, it is revealed that Mr. Kennedy delivered a warning on West Berlin and said the United States would take "any risk" to defend our rights there. Plainly this was not just a "discussion" but a grave step in international relations which could mean war.

Should American presidents issue in personal conversations—rather than in writing—warnings that could involve the country in war?

The Constitution gives only to Congress the power to declare war. Diplomatic exchanges can often bring commitments that may provoke war and then Congress is placed in the awkward position of "ratifying a state of war that exists."

When President Eisenhower decided to go to the summit at Geneva in 1955 and at Paris in 1960, the same criticisms were made in these dispatches.

In fact, thoughtful students of American diplomacy feel that summit meetings constitute a dangerous departure from a republic's policy and seem to be more in conformity with the customs and policies followed in the days of absolute monarchs.

SECRETARY RUSK, in a magazine article published before he entered the Kennedy Cabinet, opposed summit conferences unless preceded by careful preparation and, through diplomatic channels, some measure of previous agreement, in writing, on fundamentals.

Indeed, it is also a risk for secretaries of state to participate in oral conferences with foreign ministers of countries which are not allied with us and which are potentially our enemies.

It was thought for a while that the Kennedy administration would conduct foreign affairs in what was referred to a few weeks ago as "quiet diplomacy" but for some unexplained reason all this was suddenly changed and a spectacular stunt conference was substituted.

The President eliminated from many hours of his talks in Vienna the very experts who could have subsequently sized up for him the true significance of Mr. Khrushchev's behavior.

It is questionable whether such summit talks should be permitted again and yet Congress today seems supinely to ignore the risks already taken. Possibly it is because the Republicans were involved in somewhat the same procedures during the Eisenhower administration.

All in all, the present system of communications seems to be slipshod, disorganized and ineffective except for publicity maneuvers on both sides. Yet it involves commitments that can make the difference between peace and war.

Youngest World Leader

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

If President Kennedy serves two terms, he'll look like an oldtimer in world affairs when he leaves the White House in January 1969.

The reasons:

1. At 44 he is now 23 years younger than any of 10 major world leaders.

2. By 1969 most of them probably will be out of the picture.

At the moment none of them shows signs of weakening, politically or physically.

But the three youngest are already 67, or 23 years older than Kennedy: Russia's Premier Khrushchev, Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan and Red China's boss, Mao Tze-tung.

If Kennedy and these three hang on till January 1969, then Kennedy will be close to 54, Khrushchev and Macmillan will be nearing 75, and the Red Chinese leader will have reached 75.

The oldest world leader now, West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer, at 85 is 41 years older than the President. By American inauguration day, Jan. 20, 1969, he'd be 93.

Here, in the descending order of their years, are the other six leaders with their present age and, in parentheses, their age on the day Kennedy would finish a second term, if they're still around:

India's Prime Minister Nehru, 71 (79).

France's President de Gaulle, 70 (78).

Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito, 69 (76).

Francisco Franco, dictator of Spain, 68 (76).

These next eight years will take a toll in men and no doubt make a change in nations.

In eight years Red China probably will have nuclear bombs. Up till now the Chinese Communists, lacking the power with which the United States protects Chiang on Formosa, have limited themselves to nuisance bombardments of offshore islands—no real danger to Formosa 110 miles away.

But once they get nuclear destruction, the picture in Asia will change, the threats to Formosa should become more fierce.

Dictator Salazar of Portugal looked solid in his job for so long as he lived. Then natives in the Portuguese African colony of Angola began storming for freedom, killing as they went and being killed.

Angola seems bound to blow up before another eight years have passed. If it does, Salazar may be destroyed in the ruins.

They criticized Mr. Eisenhower for delegating authority and running a staff organization. Their man, they explained, had promised to take care of everything himself.

More power to him and good luck with his sore back, which might have been well by now if he had stayed still long enough to give it a chance.

Keep Out Violence

Those who scoff at efforts toward clean government with the comment, "What harm is there in a little gambling?" have received another bloody answer in the shotgun slaying of Mike Farah, notorious Trumbull County racketeer.

A "little gambling" generally leads to "big gambling", with the rackets moving in. Once the rackets get a foothold, real trouble begins.

There has been some gambling in Columbiana County over the years, but fortunately it has fallen into the category of "small time".

Gambling in any form can't be condoned and every effort should be made to erase it all. The major objective, however, is to see that the rackets don't move into the county. Constant vigilance by the sheriff's office and police departments in the various communities can continue to keep out the violence that has plagued our neighbors.

Nearby Hancock County in West Virginia, however, has cause for concern. It has been running wide open for some time, with at least one of the clubs now in operation unquestionably "big time". Hancock has escaped major violence to date, but there is no telling when the lid might blow off. You can't keep playing with fire without eventually getting burned.

Anthony Eden Misses The Point

Sir Anthony Eden had been out of the news since his resignation as British prime minister in 1957, until he made a speech at a political rally recently. His subject brought him back to attention in a hurry.

From four to six governments of the Free World, he proposed, should form a political general staff to offset the Communist Conspiracy. Translated into plain language, there should be a Free World Conspiracy.

The idea is attractive until it is realized that the Free World cannot form a conspiracy; it is a contradiction in terms to use the two ideas. It is doubtful if even the Communists can form a workable conspiracy. They have failed as between the Soviet Union and the Chinese People's Republic.

In the Free World there couldn't even be an attempt, because there is no central authority. Governments can and will share common aspirations. They can reach common agreements. They can move in parallel directions. But only in war, and then only tenuously, can they lend themselves to common policies.

Sir Anthony, himself, had this brought home to him when he reaped the whirlwind of his Suez decision, which he shared with an ill-fated government in France. He could not be stopped, but neither could the consequences of his decision to blunder ahead.

There will be no conspiracy in behalf of freedom. There will be loose agreements imperfectly honored, like the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. There will be lip service to international organizations like the United Nations. But there cannot be anything like the Communist Conspiracy, which purports to exercise international discipline based on decrees made by proletarian dictatorships.

That is what the Free World is fighting, not imitating.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Ex-President Truman is to do 26 TV shows. (This kills the belief there is anything in TV promise to curb violence.) Harry could be billed as "Mister Fireworks" on basis of his performance since he closed White House production and took himself around country as a road-show. He has gusto, color, punch and a sense of humor. There is much "ham" in him and from the day he left Washington he has followed a "The show must go on" policy.

Some TV fans have been looking for a show that would combine elements of "Have Gun, Will Travel," "Cheyenne," and "Tombstone Territory" with elements of public service, wrestling and comedy programs. This could be it. He says his 26 shows will review historic events during and since his administration. Big night should come when he gets around to discussing General Eisenhower's and General MacArthur's part in historic episodes. This one could be rougher than "The Untouchables."

UP TO NOW our retired rulers have kept largely out of public eye. In olden days question "What shall we do with our ex-presidents?" was never answered by "Put them in vaudeville." But putting them in TV now seems proper. If trend continues we may yet see former White House occupants doing flying-trapeze acts or heading troupes of acrobats on Ed Sullivan shows. "From Log Cabin To White House" may be replaced by "From White House To Alfred Hitchcock Replacement."

Harry will be first chief executive to get reviews from "Variety," "TV Guide" and "Billboard." We wish him success. But a lot depends on whether there are many Republican critics doing TV columns.

Bernard Goldfine got a year and day in prison, $110,000 fine and five years on probation from Judge George C. Sweeney, with understanding that during probation he must reveal all date on cash transactions in his textile operations. Impersonating Santa Claus too loosely caused his troubles and in Danbury hoosegow he may recite:

To Be Forewarned . . .

U.S. Reds Fear Security Act Ruling

By Victor Riesel

A brilliant, secretly Communist lawyer is the legal "higher up" covertly directing the fight of the Communist party, Section U.S.A., against the Supreme Court. During quiet and hidden New York City meetings with carefully chosen party leaders, he and other trusted lawyers, also comrades, have been more deeply disturbed by the little known Sec. 1 of the Internal Security Act than by the ruling that the party must register and disclose its members.

Victor Riesel

Of course, the party will not make its membership cards public. It destroyed them long ago. What worries them are the anti-Communist sanctions of Sec. 1. These can destroy their anti-government underground apparatus which operates today in some federal agencies and defense plants and installations.

As soon as the Supreme Court ruling finally becomes operative, for example, Secretary of Defense McNamara shall proclaim a list of defense areas. These could range from a single feeder plant for some missile to entire harbors and sections of land such as Cape Canaveral.

Communist party members, under the law, are prohibited from working anywhere in such installations without declaring themselves.

FAILURE to expose themselves automatically becomes a crime. This is punishable by heavy fines ranging upward of $10,000 and many years in jail.

But, say you, why should they expose themselves if there is no registration and no party membership card file? Because —they can never know in advance that the man or woman sitting alongside them in some party cell is not a federal agent who can testify that they are active and secret Communist party members.

With this in mind, I point to another sanction of Sec. 1. The law says no Communist party member can be a union official. This leaves scores of party men in New York, Chicago and on the West Coast in a dilemma.

There is sworn evidence that such party men are in some communications fields, in land and sea transportation and in warehousing. Now they must either quit or commit a crime by retaining their union office.

Nor can Communist party members, if the Supreme Court decision isn't balked or delayed, work for the government. They are especially forbidden to handle classified material — documents or equipment.

Basically there is no such cauterizing law now.

SEC. 1 also hits at the party's own international apparatus. Several hundred Communists will have to turn in their passports. The 1950 law states that party members are prohibited from carrying such federal travel documents.

This means that hundreds of them will not be able to travel to Moscow or to international conferences in Europe, Asia, Africa or even Cuba.

These are just a few of the sanctions but they explain the party's drive to prevent finalization of the ruling. If the law becomes operative, every government agency moves immediately.

Since the court will adjourn on or about June 30, the government would have the chance to move against the party members even if there is a stay by one judge this summer.

THE GOVERNMENT would act on all fronts at once. Thus the government could expose the party's secret infiltrators while the party's legal brains wait for rulings to prevent this. The tables, as they say in the movies, will have turned.

Thus the basic purpose of the party will have been frustrated. What this is can best be seen in a recent statement by a Communist official, Robert Thompson, who wrote to his people that:

"In devoting central attention to this aspect of our vanguard role, our party is not motivated by the simple desire to place its members in positions from which they can sell party literature or recruit new members. It is motivated primarily by the consideration of helping to achieve victories in those economic, political and ideological struggles which advance the class interest of the American working class."

He means, in his strange jargon: Comrades, the day of passing leaflets is virtually over. We must infiltrate strategically. Numbers are not important. Command positions are.

That's why the law worries them.

Letters To The Editor

Flag Day — June 14 — reminds us again of our opportunity as members of the American Legion Auxiliary to stimulate American patriotism by the display of the flag of the United States of America.

Going back to our country's first days, there is some difference of opinion as to the actual origin of the American flag. The most widely accepted story, of course, though it has no proven historical basis, is the story of Betsy Ross. Since we have no proof of any other person making the first flag, we keep the story of Betsy Ross as sort of a legend. We like the story, even though we are not sure of its historical accuracy.

We are, however, sure of one thing. We are sure that the flag stands for all of us and all of the things which make America a great, free nation. The flag is a symbol of our national unity. It symbolizes the spirit of our undying devotion to our country.

It stands for the best that is in us — for loyalty, character and faith in democracy. It represents the height of achievement; the ideals to which generations have aspired. Our flag is no holiday flag representing a ruling family but rather it is a national symbol. Our flag carries American ideas. It represents American history and American feelings. It stands for the supreme idea — the divine right of liberty in man.

Let us dedicate ourselves to the work of rekindling a burning devotion to the principles and ideals upon which our nation was founded. Let every home and public building proudly display the flag on all holidays — especially on June 14, the birthday of our flag, and on July 4, the birthday of our nation.

As we see our flag floating high in the breeze, our minds will be forming a thought-picture of the nation itself. We picture "Faith" as represented by a little band of Pilgrims more than three centuries ago who left their homes at the risk of their lives, braved stormy seas, so that they might find freedom to worship their Creator as they saw fit.

We see the signing of the Declaration of Independence from tyrannical rule — we see Washington at Valley Forge — Lawrence aboard the Chesapeake calling "Don't give up the ship" — MacArthur's "I shall return!" — Eisenhower establishing a beach head — Pershing's "doughboys" longing for home — Flanders Fields with white croses row on row — the Alamo — Corregidor — Pearl Harbor — the Monitor and the Merrimac — Korea and Gettysburg — Bataan — Iow Jima — Omaha Beach. . . . .

In the background of our thought-picture we see Old Glory on the capitol dome and each of us utters a prayer from deep within our hearts for America's continued freedom.

Paying tribute to our flag, Calvin Coolidge once said:

"When people of the Colonies were defending their liberties against the might of kings, they chose their banner from the design set in the firmament for all eternity.

"The flags of the great empires of that day are gone, but the Stars and Stripes remain. It pictures the vision of a people whose eyes were turning to the rising dawn. It represents the hope of a father for his posterity. It was never flaunted for the glory of royalty, but to be born under it is to be the child of a king and to establish a home under it is to be the founder of a royal house. Alone of all flags it expresses the sovereignty of the people which endures when all else passes."

As we go about our daily tasks, may we renew our pledge to dedicate our lives to those principles for which our flag stands. "One Nation under God, Indivisible with Liberty and Justice for All".

Mistakes At Vienna?

By David Lawrence

Kennedy Ignores Plan For 'Quiet Diplomacy'

Did President Kennedy make a mistake in the timing of his visit with Nikita Khrushchev? Should he have delayed at least a year and should he have consented to a meeting alone for several hours with the Soviet premier at which no stenographic record was made of what was said?

David Lawrence

Also, why didn't Mr. Kennedy disclose to the American people the two documents which the Soviet government presented at the Vienna conference and now is making public of its own accord?

These questions are asked because it is announced that in a few days the Soviet premier is to present a report to the Soviet people giving his own interpretation of the long discussions at Vienna.

Also, it is pertinent to inquire why as early as Feb. 22—only a month after his inauguration—President Kennedy sent a letter to Premier Khrushchev paving the way for the meeting at Vienna.

At that time Mr. Kennedy could neither have become familiar with all the background of previous negotiations as recorded in the file of reports from our ambassadors abroad to the State Department in the last several years nor had he spent very much time getting at first hand Mr. Eisenhower's impressions of Nikita Khrushchev's tactics. Yet the preceding president had access to every bit of information gathered by intelligence sources in the last several years.

Mr. Kennedy established a precedent in his long periods of conference along with the Soviet premier. Such a conference means a lot of risks for the country.

Thus, the words of an ambassador are constantly subject to review by his superiors. They can be disavowed or their meaning softened or hardened as the case may be.

When a president speaks, however, every word is authoritative and final. It represents a commitment and is part of a historic negotiation, even though for political or other reasons the tendency in official statements is to claim that what Mr. Kennedy said to Mr. Khrushchev was not a "negotiation" but a "discussion."

How could Mr. Kennedy, with his cursory knowledge of the official records of the State Department, safely make any statement orally in talking with Mr. Khrushchev without months and months of briefing beforehand by American experts familiar with Russian affairs?

Even those American experts now resident in this country are at a disadvantage. Thus, Mr. Khrushchev's problems are not publicized in the Soviet press. If he is catering to or defying an opposition, there is little opportunity for American observers to know just what the latest opposition viewpoint is and how much influence it happens to have with the Soviet premier in shaping his policies.

HOW MANY American officials know intimately the background of Kremlin policy over the years or the environment in the Ukraine, for instance, which has played such a controlling part in Mr. Khrushchev's life and method of operation?

Yet an American president with no previous experience at all in international conferences ventures forth to a "summit" meeting and then proclaims to the world afterward on a nationwide television network that "no major decision was either planned or taken."

In the same address, moreover, it is revealed that Mr. Kennedy delivered a warning on West Berlin and said the United States would take "any risk" to defend our rights there. Plainly this was not just a "discussion" but a grave step in international relations which could mean war.

Should American presidents issue in personal conversations—rather than in writing—warnings that could involve the country in war?

The Constitution gives only to Congress the power to declare war. Diplomatic exchanges can often bring commitments that may provoke war and then Congress is placed in the awkward position of "ratifying a state of war that exists."

When President Eisenhower decided to go to the summit at Geneva in 1955 and at Paris in 1960, the same criticisms were made in these dispatches.

In fact, thoughtful students of American diplomacy feel that summit meetings constitute a dangerous departure from a republic's policy and seem to be more in conformity with the customs and policies followed in the days of absolute monarchs.

SECRETARY RUSK, in a magazine article published before he entered the Kennedy Cabinet, opposed summit conferences unless preceded by careful preparation and, through diplomatic channels, some measure of previous agreement, in writing, on fundamentals.

Indeed, it is also a risk for secretaries of state to participate in oral conferences with foreign ministers of countries which are not allied with us and which are potentially our enemies.

It was thought for a while that the Kennedy administration would conduct foreign affairs in what was referred to a few weeks ago as "quiet diplomacy" but for some unexplained reason all this was suddenly changed and a spectacular stunt conference was substituted.

The President eliminated from many hours of his talks in Vienna the very experts who could have subsequently sized up for him the true significance of Mr. Khrushchev's behavior.

It is questionable whether such summit talks should be permitted again and yet Congress today seems supinely to ignore the risks already taken. Possibly it is because the Republicans were involved in somewhat the same procedures during the Eisenhower administration.

All in all, the present system of communications seems to be slipshod, disorganized and ineffective except for publicity maneuvers on both sides. Yet it involves commitments that can make the difference between peace and war.

Youngest World Leader

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

If President Kennedy serves two terms, he'll look like an oldtimer in world affairs when he leaves the White House in January 1969.

The reasons:

1. At 44 he is now 23 years younger than any of 10 major world leaders.

2. By 1969 most of them probably will be out of the picture.

At the moment none of them shows signs of weakening politically or physically.

But the three youngest are already 67, or 23 years older than Kennedy: Russia's Premier Khrushchev, Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan and Red China's boss, Mao Tze-tung.

If Kennedy and these three hang on till January 1969, then Kennedy will be close to 54, Khrushchev and Macmillan will be nearing 75, and the Red Chinese leader will have reached 75.

The oldest world leader now, West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer, at 85 is 41 years older than the President. By American inauguration day, Jan. 20, 1969, he'd be 93.

Here, in the descending order of their years, are the other six leaders with their present age and, in parentheses, their age on the day Kennedy would finish a second term, if they're still around:

India's Prime Minister Nehru, 71 (79).

France's President de Gaulle, 70 (78).

Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito, 69 (76).

Francisco Franco, dictator of Spain, 68 (76).

These next eight years will take a toll in men and no doubt make a change in nations.

In eight years Red China probably will have nuclear bombs. Up till now the Chinese Communists, lacking the power with which the United States protects Chiang on Formosa, have limited themselves to nuisance bombardments of offshore islands—no real danger to Formosa 110 miles away.

But once they get nuclear destruction, the picture in Asia will change, the threats to Formosa should become more fierce.

Dictator Salazar of Portugal looked solid in his job for so long as he lived. Then natives in the Portuguese African colony of Angola began storming for freedom, killing as they went and being killed.

Angola seems bound to blow up before another eight years have passed. If it does, Salazar may be destroyed in the ruins.

Wellsville Board Meets

Work On School Buildings Slated

Part of the annual summer work program was outlined and approved and the resignations of two teachers accepted by the Wellsville Board of Education Monday night.

The board approved the repair of the gutters on both the old and "new" sections of Garfield School for a total of $500. The work will be done by Johnson Brothers of Wellsville.

EARL BAKE, president, said the Garfield repairs also will include installation of a new furnace, and work on the steps and front doors.

The board delayed action on the other projects until it can be learned if the state legislature possibly might return the rehabilitation program.

Supt. S. E. Daw also pointed out some new furniture is needed at Garfield. He said one of the high school rooms also should have new desks. The cost is about $20 per seating unit.

The board accepted the resignations of Mrs. Dorothy Shepard, second grade instructor at Garfield, because of maternity reasons and Miss Mildred Travis, fifth grade teacher at MacDonald School, because of health. Miss Travis has been a teacher for 22 years, most of them in Wellsville.

The board approved a plan to hire Dr. Robert McNamara of Niles as part-time school psychologist. His services will be utilized jointly by East Liverpool and Wellsville.

WELLSVILLE'S share of his $8,000 salary will be $2,400, of which the state will reimburse the system $2,076., He will work for 38 weeks, spending 1½ days in Wellsville for each 3½ days in East Liverpool.

James Ferry was allowed $500 more per year for serving as assistant principal in charge of the junior high school. He also fills in as a teacher. This will be embodied in his contract.

Daw said there are five vacancies in the system.

Daw also said he had checked with an official at Columbus and was informed the State Legislature is expected to adopt a more favorable state foundation program this year.

THE BOARD approved the application for science, mathematics and language equipment under the National Defense Education Act. The school system pays half and the federal government the remainder. No amount was set. Daw is to make up a list of the needs.

The Board of Elections asked for early certification of any tax measures and Raymond Rolley, clerk, reported that the renewal of a 2.8-mill levy should appear on the November ballot.

It will expire at the end of this year, with the last collection in 1962. It will have to vote a year in advance for collection of 1962 in 1963. It will be placed on the ballot for one year and then incorporated with some other levies the following year.

Rolley reported the school census for the year totals 2,075, or 61 more than last year. Daw reported the census shows a low count in the primary departments.

—:—

The board granted Ted Koenig, band director, credit towards his summer work schedule for time to be spent at a directors' seminary at Ohio State University Thursday through Saturday.

Charles Glass, board member, was absent. Daw turned over $189.96 to Rolley. The amount represents sale of paper, fees, etc.

PROVIDING THE ADAGE comes true that four-leaf clovers bring luck, an Illinois woman visiting a niece in East End should reap it by the basketfull. Mrs. Ila Duncan Larrabee of Wheaton, left former Smiths Ferry resident, and Mrs. Jennie Putnam Boston, 1625 Ohio Ave., inspect an unusually-large four-leafer that the Wheaton woman found in the yard of her niece's home. It measures four inches across, much larger than the average size symbol of good luck. Mrs. Larrabee, who was injured seriously in an auto accident in 1958, regained use of her legs only last year and hopes the clover will bring her luck in the form of a more complete recovery. She plans to press the king-sized four-leafer in the pages of the family Bible if it does not grow as a house plant.

$1,540 Short Of Goal

Red Cross Nets $14,333 From Annual Fund Drive

A total of $14,225 was realized from the 1961 Red Cross fund campaign, it was announced Monday night during the quarterly meeting of the board of directors in chapter headquarters at Mary Patterson Memorial.

William E. Adkins, campaign chairman, said the figure is $1,540 short of the goal of $15,766.

A financial breakdown of the six divisions in the campaign follows: Business, $4,017.65; Special Gifts, $6,910; Clubs and Organizations, $260; Professional, $1,000.70; House to House, $1,350.58, and Salineville, $286.15. A pledge of $400 is still outstanding.

During routine business conducted by Judge Louis Tobin, chapter chairman, a donation of $95 was made to assist in purchasing an indoor classroom driver-trainer for use in the driver training program of adults and high school students. The Drivers Training Club and Columbiana County Motor Club have contributed the additional amount needed to purchase the equipment.

Judge Tobin appointed Harold Sneddon, H. Judson English and Mrs. J. Donald Thompson as a nominating committee to prepare a slate of officers for election in September.

Terms of 18 members of the board of directors will expire in 1961 also. The committee was authorized to select three chairmen for the 1961 fund campaign.

Mrs. Thompson announced that the Gray Ladies capping exercises will be held in conjunction with Red Cross Recognition Night on June 21 at 8 in the First Methodist church.

Gray Ladies with one year's experience will receive service stripes, while the graduating class will be given caps. Awards for outstanding service will be given to members of both groups. National awards for volunteer service will go to citizens who have distinguished themselves in Red Cross service for many years.

The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Lawrence Black. Ten members attended.

Niles Mayor Warns Chief On Gambling

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Thomas R. Smith of Niles has told Police Chief John Ross that he must crack down on gambling or lose his job. Recalling he gave a similar order last year, Smith said: "This is not going to be a two-week deal. It's going to be permanent."

Smith was defeated for renomination in the May primaries by Carl Rettig.

5 Weirton Men Wind Up Test In Mountains

KINGWOOD, W. Va. (AP) — A man can keep body and soul together for a while on a diet of wild rabbit, turtle, fish and mountain greens. But buckwheat cakes and sausage: Man, that's better eating.

The five should know.

They'd been living for the past two weeks on the wildlife and edible greens which abound in the mountains this time of the year.

Brown Monday served them the cakes and sausage, their first home cooked meal since they went into the wilds of the Allegheny Mountains 28 miles north of here to prove man could live off the land if his home was leveled by nuclear attack.

The five, sporting beards or reasonable facsimiles, were physically fit. They were a bit hungry, needless to say. They had lost from 10 to 20 pounds. But they were convinced modern man has the know - how to survive shorn of modern conveniences if necessity dictates.

Carl Swift, 24 - year - old outdoor writer for the Weirton (W. Va.) Times who originated the idea, was bitten in the thigh by a snake. It wasn't poisonous. But they lanced the wound to be sure.

Andrew J. Kondik, 46, the oldest of the five, lost the most weight. He'd discarded 20 pounds.

The others said they'd dropped about 10 pounds. They include Bob Vinburg, 22; Ralph Marracino, 21, and Garner Kelley, 27.

The board approved the repair of the gutters on both the old and "new" sections of Garfield School for a total of $500. The work will be done by Johnson Brothers of Wellsville.

EARL BAKE, president, said the Garfield repairs also will include installation of a new furnace, and work on the steps and front doors.

The board delayed action on the other projects until it can be learned if the state legislature possibly might return the rehabilitation program.

Supt. S. E. Daw also pointed out some new furniture is needed at Garfield. He said one of the high school rooms also should have new desks. The cost is about $20 per seating unit.

The board accepted the resignations of Mrs. Dorothy Shepard, second grade instructor at Garfield, because of maternity reasons and Miss Mildred Travis, fifth grade teacher at MacDonald School, because of health. Miss Travis has been a teacher for 22 years, most of them in Wellsville.

The board approved a plan to hire Dr. Robert McNamara of Niles as part-time school psychologist. His services will be utilized jointly by East Liverpool and Wellsville.

WELLSVILLE'S share of his $8,000 salary will be $2,400, of which the state will reimburse the system $2,076., He will work for 38 weeks, spending 1½ days in Wellsville for each 3½ days in East Liverpool.

James Ferry was allowed $500 more per year for serving as assistant principal in charge of the junior high school. He also fills in as a teacher. This will be embodied in his contract.

Daw said there are five vacancies in the system.

Daw also said he had checked with an official at Columbus and was informed the State Legislature is expected to adopt a more favorable state foundation program this year.

THE BOARD approved the application for science, mathematics and language equipment under the National Defense Education Act. The school system pays half and the federal government the remainder. No amount was set. Daw is to make up a list of the needs.

The Board of Elections asked for early certification of any tax measures and Raymond Rolley, clerk, reported that the renewal of a 2.8-mill levy should appear on the November ballot.

It will expire at the end of this year, with the last collection in 1962. It will have to vote a year in advance for collection of 1962 in 1963. It will be placed on the ballot for one year and then incorporated with some other levies the following year.

Rolley reported the school census for the year totals 2,075, or 61 more than last year. Daw reported the census shows a low count in the primary departments.

—:—

The board granted Ted Koenig, band director, credit towards his summer work schedule for time to be spent at a directors' seminary at Ohio State University Thursday through Saturday.

Charles Glass, board member, was absent. Daw turned over $189.96 to Rolley. The amount represents sale of paper, fees, etc.

PROVIDING THE ADAGE comes true that four-leaf clovers bring luck, an Illinois woman visiting a niece in East End should reap it by the basketfull. Mrs. Ila Duncan Larrabee of Wheaton, left former Smiths Ferry resident, and Mrs. Jennie Putnam Boston, 1625 Ohio Ave., inspect an unusually-large four-leafer that the Wheaton woman found in the yard of her niece's home. It measures four inches across, much larger than the average size symbol of good luck. Mrs. Larrabee, who was injured seriously in an auto accident in 1958, regained use of her legs only last year and hopes the clover will bring her luck in the form of a more complete recovery. She plans to press the king-sized four-leafer in the pages of the family Bible if it does not grow as a house plant.

$1,540 Short Of Goal

Red Cross Nets $14,333 From Annual Fund Drive

A total of $14,225 was realized from the 1961 Red Cross fund campaign, it was announced Monday night during the quarterly meeting of the board of directors in chapter headquarters at Mary Patterson Memorial.

William E. Adkins, campaign chairman, said the figure is $1,540 short of the goal of $15,766.

A financial breakdown of the six divisions in the campaign follows: Business, $4,017.65; Special Gifts, $6,910; Clubs and Organizations, $260; Professional, $1,000.70; House to House, $1,350.58, and Salineville, $286.15. A pledge of $400 is still outstanding.

During routine business conducted by Judge Louis Tobin, chapter chairman, a donation of $95 was made to assist in purchasing an indoor classroom driver-trainer for use in the driver training program of adults and high school students. The Drivers Training Club and Columbiana County Motor Club have contributed the additional amount needed to purchase the equipment.

Judge Tobin appointed Harold Sneddon, H. Judson English and Mrs. J. Donald Thompson as a nominating committee to prepare a slate of officers for election in September.

Terms of 18 members of the board of directors will expire in 1961 also. The committee was authorized to select three chairmen for the 1961 fund campaign.

Mrs. Thompson announced that the Gray Ladies capping exercises will be held in conjunction with Red Cross Recognition Night on June 21 at 8 in the First Methodist church.

Gray Ladies with one year's experience will receive service stripes, while the graduating class will be given caps. Awards for outstanding service will be given to members of both groups. National awards for volunteer service will go to citizens who have distinguished themselves in Red Cross service for many years.

The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Lawrence Black. Ten members attended.

Niles Mayor Warns Chief On Gambling

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Thomas R. Smith of Niles has told Police Chief John Ross that he must crack down on gambling or lose his job. Recalling he gave a similar order last year, Smith said: "This is not going to be a two-week deal. It's going to be permanent."

Smith was defeated for renomination in the May primaries by Carl Rettig.

5 Weirton Men Wind Up Test In Mountains

KINGWOOD, W. Va. (AP) — A man can keep body and soul together for a while on a diet of wild rabbit, turtle, fish and mountain greens. But buckwheat cakes and sausage: Man, that's better eating.

The five should know.

They'd been living for the past two weeks on the wildlife and edible greens which abound in the mountains this time of the year.

Brown Monday served them the cakes and sausage, their first home cooked meal since they went into the wilds of the Allegheny Mountains 28 miles north of here to prove man could live off the land if his home was leveled by nuclear attack.

The five, sporting beards or reasonable facsimiles, were physically fit. They were a bit hungry, needless to say. They had lost from 10 to 20 pounds. But they were convinced modern man has the know - how to survive shorn of modern conveniences if necessity dictates.

Carl Swift, 24 - year - old outdoor writer for the Weirton (W. Va.) Times who originated the idea, was bitten in the thigh by a snake. It wasn't poisonous. But they lanced the wound to be sure.

Andrew J. Kondik, 46, the oldest of the five, lost the most weight. He'd discarded 20 pounds.

The others said they'd dropped about 10 pounds. They include Bob Vinburg, 22; Ralph Marracino, 21, and Garner Kelley, 27.

Bar Death

turned to police headquarters about 5 a. m. Williams and the witnesses already had been "rounded up" and were awaiting questioning.

Lt. Winters testified he took a written statement from Williams, which was introduced as a prosecution exhibit. In reply to a question about the statement he said:

"Williams said he had been at the Green Mill. He had helped break up a fight earlier. Afterward, he walked over to a booth where Mr. Willard and Mr. Hebron were sitting. He said Mr. Willard stood up and he threw up his hand more or less to protect himself and struck Mr. Willard. Then he ran out the back door of the tavern."

Under cross - examination by Atty. Aronson, Lt. Winters said police did not make any "scientific examination" of the nearby floor, tables or booths in the tavern to determine if he struck his head when he fell.

As the hearing opened, Atty. Aronson moved to dismiss the affidavit against his client on the grounds it was "insufficient" and "not properly drawn." Neither side argued the motion. Judge Chertoff ruled the affidavit "regular" and overruled the motion. A stenographic record was being made of the testimony at the request of the defense.

Williams appeared in court in a short - sleeved whiteshirt and dark trousers. He has been in jail since his arrest, unable to raise a $5,000 bond that was set June 5.

The hearing covered 90 minutes, ending at 11:20. As it ended, Judge Chertoff overruled a defense motion for dismissal. After hearing arguments from counsel, he ordered Williams' bond reduced to $2,500.

The judge agreed with defense counsel there is little possibility Williams will fail to appear for later trial, one of the factors the law requires him to take into consideration when fixing bond. The judge explained he set the $5,000 bond earlier because he was unfamiliar with the facts in the case "but a man was dead."

Campbell Sentencing Slated This Afternoon

Campbell shot his wife after she told him that she was leaving him for another man. He was indicted by the April Grand Jury on a charge of second degree murder but the jury returned a first degree manslaughter verdict.

He faces a 1-20-year term in the Ohio State Penitentiary.

County Heads Cite Ruling Against Camp

Columbiana County Commissioners Walter Hunton and Galen Greenisen today said they have been advised by Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy that there is no "legal basis for a camp for delinquent boys" such as proposed by Probate Judge Louis Tobin.

Judge Tobin last year proposed a camp for county first-time juveniles for rehabilitation and detention instead of sending them to state industrial schools to mingle with serious offenders.

The judge last week said he had dropped the plan, backed by a number of county organizations, because Commissioner Hunston was against it and had stymied the project.

Commissioner Hunston later issued a statement denying he had taken a public stand on the matter, pointing out the camp would require a bond issue.

Judge Tobin later replied that funds from the sale of the county's share of the Fairmount Children's Home would provide enough money for construction.

The two Republican commissioners today said that the attorney general ruled such a camp would have to be for boys and girls and only until final disposition could be made of their cases.

They said the state official also ruled that Juvenile Courts may not organize to establish forestry camps under present Ohio laws.

Hunston and Greenisen said Judge Tobin has not held discussions with them on the costs of maintaining such a camp.

They said the attorney general gave them the "informal" opinion May 12.

Bar Death

turned to police headquarters about 5 a. m. Williams and the witnesses already had been "rounded up" and were awaiting questioning.

Lt. Winters testified he took a written statement from Williams, which was introduced as a prosecution exhibit. In reply to a question about the statement he said:

"Williams said he had been at the Green Mill. He had helped break up a fight earlier. Afterward, he walked over to a booth where Mr. Willard and Mr. Hebron were sitting. He said Mr. Willard stood up and he threw up his hand more or less to protect himself and struck Mr. Willard. Then he ran out the back door of the tavern."

Under cross - examination by Atty. Aronson, Lt. Winters said police did not make any "scientific examination" of the nearby floor, tables or booths in the tavern to determine if he struck his head when he fell.

As the hearing opened, Atty. Aronson moved to dismiss the affidavit against his client on the grounds it was "insufficient" and "not properly drawn." Neither side argued the motion. Judge Chertoff ruled the affidavit "regular" and overruled the motion. A stenographic record was being made of the testimony at the request of the defense.

Williams appeared in court in a short - sleeved whiteshirt and dark trousers. He has been in jail since his arrest, unable to raise a $5,000 bond that was set June 5.

The hearing covered 90 minutes, ending at 11:20. As it ended, Judge Chertoff overruled a defense motion for dismissal. After hearing arguments from counsel, he ordered Williams' bond reduced to $2,500.

The judge agreed with defense counsel there is little possibility Williams will fail to appear for later trial, one of the factors the law requires him to take into consideration when fixing bond. The judge explained he set the $5,000 bond earlier because he was unfamiliar with the facts in the case "but a man was dead."

Campbell Sentencing Slated This Afternoon

Raymond Campbell of River Rd., found guilty Thursday of first degree manslaughter in the slaying of his wife at their Beechwood home the night of Nov. 28, is due for sentencing this afternoon in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon.

Campbell shot his wife after she told him that she was leaving him for another man. He was indicted by the April Grand Jury on a charge of second degree murder but the jury returned a first degree manslaughter verdict.

He faces a 1-20-year term in the Ohio State Penitentiary.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Roberta Lane, high school English teacher, who plans to teach at East Liverpool.

The school budget is being prepared, and will be advertised Thursday with a public hearing planned June 26. Chester Urbschat, Public School teacher, was hired for clerical work for two weeks.

County Heads Cite Ruling Against Camp

Columbiana County Commissioners Walter Hunton and Galen Greenisen today said they have been advised by Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy that there is no "legal basis for a camp for delinquent boys" such as proposed by Probate Judge Louis Tobin.

Judge Tobin last year proposed a camp for county first-time juveniles for rehabilitation and detention instead of sending them to state industrial schools to mingle with serious offenders.

The judge last week said he had dropped the plan, backed by a number of county organizations, because Commissioner Hunston was against it and had stymied the project.

Commissioner Hunston later issued a statement denying he had taken a public stand on the matter, pointing out the camp would require a bond issue.

Judge Tobin later replied that funds from the sale of the county's share of the Fairmount Children's Home would provide enough money for construction.

The two Republican commissioners today said that the attorney general ruled such a camp would have to be for boys and girls and only until final disposition could be made of their cases.

They said the state official also ruled that Juvenile Courts may not organize to establish forestry camps under present Ohio laws.

Hunston and Greenisen said Judge Tobin has not held discussions with them on the costs of maintaining such a camp.

They said the attorney general gave them the "informal" opinion May 12.

U.S. Rocket Pioneer Was Ignored

By SID MOODY
AP Newsfeatures

Whatever the military significance of Russia's stunning space feats, they have certainly given the United States a drubbing in world opinion.

Russia was first in orbit, first in to deep space, first to hit the moon and photograph its far side. The first astronaut is named Yuri.

Second In A Series

Indeed, if the space duel were a one-shot fray, the U.S. would have died at dawn.

How did it happen?

Perhaps it began March 16, 1926. That day the world's first liquid-fueled rocket spluttered across the calm of Auburn, Mass. The American visionary who invented the rocket, Dr. Robert H. Goddard, was pleased. America, except for a few startled residents, wasn't listening.

—:—

WORKING ON his own, however, Goddard by 1941 had produced a rocket that was almost identical to the German V-2 that was to terrorize London in 1944. Those shots, not Goddard's, suddenly made America rocket-conscious.

Stalin, meanwhile, was also learning some lessons. As his armies fought into Germany, they were awed by the destruction left by the Allied bombers.

Stalin was more than awed. He was worried. He had no strategic bombers.

Rather than try to make up America's almost insurmountable bomber lead, a former Soviet officer has reported, Stalin ordered as many German rocketeers captured as possible.

In 1947 he reportedly told a meeting of the Politburo he wanted a rocket capable of hitting New York City which "would make it easier to talk with the gentleman shopkeeper Harry Truman and keep him pinned down where we want him."

THAT SAME year the Truman administration turned down a military proposal to spend $75 million on development of a super rocket —which eventually became the Atlas. The Presdient's scientific advisors said the cost would be astronomical.

AMERICAN ROCKET PIONEER. The experiments of Dr. Robert H. Goddard probably could have helped give the United States a long head start in the space race, had they not been largely ignored. Goddard fired the world's first liquid-fueled rocket in 1926 at Auburn, Mass., and by 1941 had produced a rocket almost identical to the German V-2 that was to terrorize London three years later.

The Navy had already asked $5-$8 million for a satellite program in 1945. The Air Force made a similar proposal a year later. James Forrestal, the first secretary of defense, reported neither plan had shown a military value worth the cost.

"However," he added, "the question ... deserves further study and examination."

But bombers were our main military strength so that's where the money went.

The assumption was that Russia was concentrating on bombers, too. Then, in the early 1950s, new radar stations on Soviet borders reported the Soviets were firing rockets.

"We found they were going hundreds, even more than hundreds, of miles," said Roy Johnson, then vice president of the General Electric Co. which worked on the radar.

Atlas was reactivated and planned to have about 800,000 pounds thrust — the power of the current Soviet boosters.

ATLAS WAS to be able to hit Russia with a hydrogen warhead. Then, in 1954, the United States exploded a hydrogen bomb that created the most powerful blast in history — yet was small enough to fit a rocket only half as powerful as the original Atlas. And that's the size rocket the United States worked on.

The Russians didn't have such a small warhead. So they needed larger rockets. And that's what they worked on.

As a result they now have twice the booster power the United States does. The United States plans to start testing Saturn, a 1½-million pound thrust rocket, later this year and hopes it will be operational in 1964.

Presumably the Russians are not standing pat. There are rumors they are working on a 3,000,000-pound booster. The United States is working on a 1,500,000-pount thrust rocket engine that when clustered with similar engines would give gigantic power. It is many years off.

Whether Russia always had space in mind can't be determined.

But the United States rocket programs were purely for military uses. Space exploration was literally and figuratively out of this world.

The camp must be prepared for the opening June 25. Some 500 scouts are expected to attend this year.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I renew artificial fruits?

A. Wash them carefully and quickly with lukewarm soapsuds, rinse, and dry well. Then rub a small amount of cold cream on your hands and gently coat the fruit with a thin film by rolling between your fingers. This imparts a delicate fragrance and gives the fruit a natural - looking and attractive appearance.

Q. What is a good way to provide support for the weak stems on some house plants?

A. You can do this effectively, and decoratively too, by wedging some colorful plastic forks into the soil and then inserting the stems of your plants between the tines of the forks.

Q. What is a good substitute shoe polish for use when the real thing is not at hand?

A. Try using a little of your paste floor wax. This has a neutral color, may be used on either dark or light shoes, and produces a high gloss.

St. Clair Sets Street Policy

A change in policy of accepting streets and roads in proposed plats was authorized by St. Clair Township trustees Monday night following clarification of procedure by County Prosecutor William Brokaw.

The trustees previously had accepted parts of such streets which had been graded and brought up to requirements, taking bonds or other guarantees that the remainder of the street in the plat would later be completed to required standards.

The prosecutor, however, informed the trustees by letter that all the street in a plat is accepted if the trustees dedicate the street and accept it for maintenance.

The trustees from now on will accept such streets only if they meet requirements for year-round travel in entirety.

Ike Cites Need Of Air Cover For Invasion Thrust

The statement, at a news conference, came a day after new Republican National Chairman William E. Miller declared President Kennedy "rescinded and revoked the Eisenhower plan to have the Cuban freedom fighters protected by American air power."

The former president also said the United States cannot very much longer "keep on ice" the matter of resuming nuclear testing. He told the news conference "the time comes when we have to fix a date" beyond which the nation would not feel bound to abstain from testing.

U.S. Rocket Pioneer Was Ignored

By SID MOODY
AP Newsfeatures

Whatever the military significance of Russia's stunning space feats, they have certainly given the United States a drubbing in world opinion.

Russia was first in orbit, first in to deep space, first to hit the moon and photograph its far side. The first astronaut is named Yuri.

Second In A Series

Indeed, if the space duel were a one-shot fray, the U.S. would have died at dawn.

How did it happen?

Perhaps it began March 16, 1926. That day the world's first liquid-fueled rocket spluttered across the calm of Auburn, Mass. The American visionary who invented the rocket, Dr. Robert H. Goddard, was pleased. America, except for a few startled residents, wasn't listening.

—.—

WORKING ON his own, however, Goddard by 1941 had produced a rocket that was almost identical to the German V-2 that was to terrorize London in 1944. Those shots, not Goddard's, suddenly made America rocket-conscious.

Stalin, meanwhile, was also learning some lessons. As his armies fought into Germany, they were awed by the destruction left by the Allied bombers.

Stalin was more than awed. He was worried. He had no strategic bombers.

Rather than try to make up America's almost insurmountable bomber lead, a former Soviet officer has reported, Stalin ordered as many German rocketeers captured as possible.

In 1947 he reportedly told a meeting of the Politburo he wanted a rocket capable of hitting New York City which "would make it easier to talk with the gentleman shopkeeper Harry Truman and keep him pinned down where we want him."

THAT SAME year the Truman administration turned down a military proposal to spend $75 million on development of a super rocket —which eventually became the Atlas. The Presdient's scientific advisors said the cost would be astronomical.

The Navy had already asked $5-$8 million for a satellite program in 1945. The Air Force made a similar proposal a year later. James Forrestal, the first secretary of defense, reported neither plan had shown a military value worth the cost.

"However," he added, "the question ... deserves further study and examination."

But bombers were our main military strength so that's where the money went.

The assumption was that Russia was concentrating on bombers, too. Then, in the early 1950s, new radar stations on Soviet borders reported the Soviets were firing rockets.

"We found they were going hundreds, even more than hundreds, of miles," said Roy Johnson, then vice president of the General Electric Co. which worked on the radar.

Atlas was reactivated and planned to have about 800,000 pounds thrust — the power of the current Soviet boosters.

ATLAS WAS to be able to hit Russia with a hydrogen warhead. Then, in 1954, the United States exploded a hydrogen bomb that created the most powerful blast in history — yet was small enough to fit a rocket only half as powerful as the original Atlas. And that's the size rocket the United States worked on.

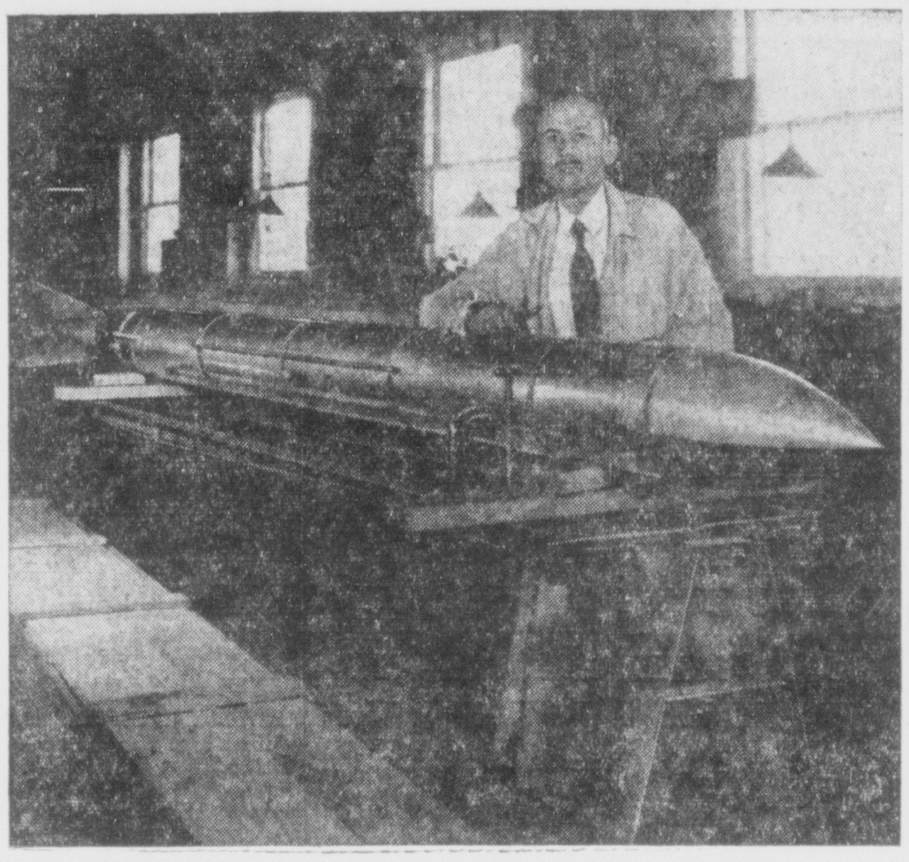

The Russians didn't have such a small warhead. So they needed larger rockets. And that's what they worked on.

As a result they now have twice the booster power the United States does. The United States plans to start testing Saturn, a 1½-million pound thrust rocket, later this year and hopes it will be operational in 1964.

Presumably the Russians are not standing pat. There are rumors they are working on a 3,000,000-pound booster. The United States is working on a 1,500,000-pount thrust rocket engine that when clustered with similar engines would give gigantic power. It is many years off.

But the United States rocket programs were purely for military uses. Space exploration was literally and figuratively out of this world.

AMERICAN ROCKET PIONEER. The experiments of Dr. Robert H. Goddard probably could have helped give the United States a long head start in the space race, had they not been largely ignored. Goddard fired the world's first liquid-fueled rocket in 1926 at Auburn, Mass., and by 1941 had produced a rocket almost identical to the German V-2 that was to terrorize London three years later.

The former president also said the United States cannot very much longer "keep on ice" the matter of resuming nuclear testing. He told the news conference "the time comes when we have to fix a date" beyond which the nation would not feel bound to abstain from testing.

Police say Cheryl, now 17, failed to appear before juvenile officials to explain her arrest early Sunday morning. Police had found her with two drunken teen-agers.

Cheryl was booked Sunday under juvenile laws when patrolmen answered a prowler call at the home of her grandmother, who wasn't home. The officers said Cheryl was entertaining two other girls, Rachel Sanchez, 18, of North Hollywood, and a 16-year-old minor.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Doesn't anybody read your stuff before it goes into the paper? Some of your advice is good but I can't imagine a respectable family newspaper printing letters which deal with 17-year-old high school girls getting pregnant.

We have two teen-age daughters and I don't think they should be reading such trash. Why put ideas into their heads? We are doing our best to raise wholesome young ladies and, believe me, it's no easy job what with sex, immorality and junky magazines being thrown in your face left and right.

In my opinion you can keep yourself plenty busy without getting into subjects that no decent girl should know about. What's the matter with you anyway? — DISGUSTED.

Dear Disgusted: Did you know that the average age for unwed mothers in this country is 16? These girls get into trouble because they know too LITTLE—not too much.

This column is fit material for anyone who can read. A girl who is old enough to know what unwed means should also know what an unwed mother is—and how she got that way.

Correct information, presented in a forthright manner, is the best insurance against getting into trouble.

Parents who attempt to sweep sex under the rug or pretend that it doesn't exist in the hope that their children won't notice it, are unrealistic and foolish.

In Driver's Seat

Dear Ann: I'm a girl, 18, and my folks gave me a new car for graduation. The fellow I go steady with has no car.

Would it be proper for me to take my car when we go out? Of course I wouldn't pick him up at his house or drive him home. He'd have to come and get me and find his own way home.

Also, should I let him drive? A girl at the wheel, looks funny on a date. My folks are undecided and have agreed to let you settle it — DUCKY.

Dear Ducky: Providing transportation is part of the fellow's responsibility. When you seat (literally) you toss your boy friend OUT of it (figuratively).

Keep your car in the garage and settle for whatever transportation he can scare up. It may be less convenient but it will make for a better relationship.

Phone Manners

Dear Ann: One thing that mystifies me about Americans (I was born and raised on the other side) is the rude manner in which they hang up the telephone when they get a wrong number.

After all, the person who answers a wrong number is the one who has been inconvenienced. Why, then, does the party who made the mistake get mad and hang up in a fit of temper?

Thank you for any understanding you may be able to give me on this subject.—SWISS MISS.

Dear Miss: The person who gets a wrong number is mad at himself. Immature people, when they are mad at themselves, take it out on the handiest victim.

This is not an American characteristic, it's a human characteristic. And, forgive my frankness, but telephone manners "on the other side" are no better than they are over here.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Francis House, adjutant, reported on the Columbiana County Council meeting Friday night at Post 374 in East End. The next is July 14 at East Palestine Post 31.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Good Muscle Tone Keeps Figure Trim

It's wonderful to feel young and vigorous ... particularly in middle-age. Live tone in the brace of muscles which make up nature's girdle will not only help banish the spread, but the middle-age feeling as well.

Ida Jean Kain

Unfortunately the muscles of the abdomen get almost no exercise in the course of the day's activity. These muscles are probably the most neglected in the body, so the midsection "goes to pot."

Many of you write to ask how to reduce a fat stomach. It's important to understand that it isn't always a question of fat. The overly large abdomen is often caused by a loss of muscle tone. Exercise will restore tone and improve your shape.

THE LENGTH OF time it will take to recondition your muscular girdle depends on how long it has been since you've exercised, whether you got plenty of activity as a youngster, and also on your posture and how much fat has infiltrated into the muscle fibers.

Tone in these muscles is so important to well-being that even though you skip all other calisthenics, take a few minutes daily to keep the muscular girdle in condition. Here is a simple, but highly-effective routine...

Position: Sit on floor, legs spread wide apart. Lean back as far as you can without losing your balance. Place palms of hands flat on floor, fingers pointed rearward.

Movement: Without changing the backward - leaning position of your body, place hands on waistline at sides ... hold. Hold to a slow count of six, counting out loud. Return palms to floor and repeat the routine 6 to 8 times, always holding. The holding does the toning.

From the same starting position as above, leaning well back, place hands back of neck — hold to slow count of six. Try to keep elbows in straight line so as to square the shoulders. Repeat routine six times. Progress by raising both arms straight overhead, again from the same starting position.

Repeat this action six counts, each time holding for a slow count of six, counting out loud.

After you have mastered this routine, progress by shifting the hands from the floor to waist — to back of neck — to overhead... holding each separate position for two or three counts. Go through this complete routine six times, resting a few minutes after each sequence.

THIS EXERCISE routine tones the long front muscles. As these muscles are strengthened you will notice that you feel more like pulling up-and-in-slim as you sit, stand, and walk.

Get in the beautiful habit of using the long front abdominals to pull yourself up to your full height — that action is streamlining. At ease, keep shoulders relaxed.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card request cannot be answered.

Corak's New Nominee Is Broadcaster

Ernest P. Kline, news director for a Beaver Falls radio station, will be recommended for appointment as workmen's compensation referee, Commissioner Eli Corak, county Democratic chairman, announced today.

Kline will succeed Corak, who resigned the post after being appointed to the commissioner's post to succeed the late Gordon Camp.

Corak said he does not anticipate any opposition to Kline. The post, which serves Beaver, Washington and Greene Counties, pays $7,500 a year plus traveling expenses.

Dr. Thomas Todd, former county coroner, was recommended by Corak last week but the nomination was withdrawn at the chiropractor's insistence after State Sen. John Carl Miller announced he would oppose confirmation.

Corak declined to comment on reports he will resign as party chairman, declaring it is a matter he will discuss with the party's executive committee.

A campaign currently is under way in the county to change the method of electing a party chairman. At present, the chairman is elected by a vote of the entire Democratic electorate.

Under the proposed plan, the chairman would be elected by county committeemen and committeewomen.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Doesn't anybody read your stuff before it goes into the paper? Some of your advice is good but I can't imagine a respectable family newspaper printing letters which deal with 17-year-old high school girls getting pregnant.

We have two teen-age daughters and I don't think they should be reading such trash. Why put ideas into their heads? We are doing our best to raise wholesome young ladies and, believe me, it's no easy job what with sex, immorality and junky magazines being thrown in your face left and right.

In my opinion you can keep yourself plenty busy without getting into subjects that no decent girl should know about. What's the matter with you anyway? — DISGUSTED.

Dear Disgusted: Did you know that the average age for unwed mothers in this country is 16? These girls get into trouble because they know too LITTLE—not too much.

This column is fit material for anyone who can read. A girl who is old enough to know what unwed means should also know what an unwed mother is—and how she got that way.

Correct information, presented in a forthright manner, is the best insurance against getting into trouble.

Parents who attempt to sweep sex under the rug or pretend that it doesn't exist in the hope that their children won't notice it, are unrealistic and foolish.

In Driver's Seat

Dear Ann: I'm a girl, 18, and my folks gave me a new car for graduation. The fellow I go steady with has no car.

Would it be proper for me to take my car when we go out? Of course I wouldn't pick him up at his house or drive him home. He'd have to come and get me and find his own way home.

Also, should I let him drive? A girl at the wheel, looks funny on a date. My folks are undecided and have agreed to let you settle it — DUCKY.

Dear Ducky: Providing transportation is part of the fellow's responsibility. When you seat (literally) you toss your boy friend OUT of it (figuratively).

Keep your car in the garage and settle for whatever transportation he can scare up. It may be less convenient but it will make for a better relationship.

Phone Manners

Dear Ann: One thing that mystifies me about Americans (I was born and raised on the other side) is the rude manner in which they hang up the telephone when they get a wrong number.

After all, the person who answers a wrong number is the one who has been inconvenienced. Why, then, does the party who made the mistake get mad and hang up in a fit of temper?

Thank you for any understanding you may be able to give me on this subject.—SWISS MISS.

Dear Miss: The person who gets a wrong number is mad at himself. Immature people, when they are mad at themselves, take it out on the handiest victim.

This is not an American characteristic, it's a human characteristic. And, forgive my frankness, but telephone manners "on the other side" are no better than they are over here.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Corak's New Nominee Is Broadcaster

Ernest P. Kline, news director for a Beaver Falls radio station, will be recommended for appointment as workmen's compensation referee, Commissioner Eli Corak, county Democratic chairman, announced today.

Kline will succeed Corak, who resigned the post after being appointed to the commissioner's post to succeed the late Gordon Camp.

Corak said he does not anticipate any opposition to Kline. The post, which serves Beaver, Washington and Greene Counties, pays $7,500 a year plus traveling expenses.

Dr. Thomas Todd, former county coroner, was recommended by Corak last week but the nomination was withdrawn at the chiropractor's insistence after State Sen. John Carl Miller announced he would oppose confirmation.

Corak declined to comment on reports he will resign as party chairman, declaring it is a matter he will discuss with the party's executive committee.

A campaign currently is under way in the county to change the method of electing a party chairman. At present, the chairman is elected by a vote of the entire Democratic electorate.

It's wonderful to feel young and vigorous ... particularly in middle-age. Live tone in the brace of muscles which make up nature's girdle will not only help banish the spread, but the middle-age feeling as well.

Ida Jean Kain

Unfortunately the muscles of the abdomen get almost no exercise in the course of the day's activity. These muscles are probably the most neglected in the body, so the midsection "goes to pot."

Many of you write to ask how to reduce a fat stomach. It's important to understand that it isn't always a question of fat. The overly large abdomen is often caused by a loss of muscle tone. Exercise will restore tone and improve your shape.

THE LENGTH OF time it will take to recondition your muscular girdle depends on how long it has been since you've exercised, whether you got plenty of activity as a youngster, and also on your posture and how much fat has infiltrated into the muscle fibers.

Tone in these muscles is so important to well-being that even though you skip all other calisthenics, take a few minutes daily to keep the muscular girdle in condition. Here is a simple, but highly-effective routine...

Position: Sit on floor, legs spread wide apart. Lean back as far as you can without losing your balance. Place palms of hands flat on floor, fingers pointed rearward.

Movement: Without changing the backward - leaning position of your body, place hands on waistline at sides ... hold. Hold to a slow count of six, counting out loud. Return palms to floor and repeat the routine 6 to 8 times, always holding. The holding does the toning.

From the same starting position as above, leaning well back, place hands back of neck — hold to slow count of six. Try to keep elbows in straight line so as to square the shoulders. Repeat routine six times. Progress by raising both arms straight overhead, again from the same starting position.

After you have mastered this routine, progress by shifting the hands from the floor to waist — to back of neck — to overhead... holding each separate position for two or three counts. Go through this complete routine six times, resting a few minutes after each sequence.

THIS EXERCISE routine tones the long front muscles. As these muscles are strengthened you will notice that you feel more like pulling up-and-in-slim as you sit, stand, and walk.

Get in the beautiful habit of using the long front abdominals to pull yourself up to your full height — that action is streamlining. At ease, keep shoulders relaxed.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card request cannot be answered.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Prime Time Runs Out For Westerns

Marie Torre

For TV's long-reigning Westerns, the sands of prime time are running out. Even the American Broadcasting Co., known these many years as "The Western Network," is forsaking the horse opera in a bid for recognition as the network with the "leastest" — four weekly sagebrush sagas in the new season, that is, against CBS' five and NBC's six. The Western is in decline for the first time in five trigger-happy years. Seven of the shoot-em-ups currently galloping across home screens will report to Boot Hill before the new season, leaving all of prime time network TV with but 15 horse operas, or a drop from 16 hours a week to 12½.

AND IF TIME doesn't eventually kill TV's Westerns, "pressure" surely will. With cactus violence the target of mounting criticism among parents and Washington investigators alike, a voice from the United States Army finds something else to complain about, to wit, the "objectionable representative of yesterday's army and its officers" in TV Westerns.

The protest is registered by Lt. Col. William Gardner Bell, who writes in an article titled, "What's TV Got Against the Army?" in Armor magazine:

"History records that the United State Army played a major role in the winning of the west — but the American television audience may yet be brainwashed into questioning this statement.

"HOW," asks the colonel, "could the Army have contributed much to the taming of our wild frontier when its officers were a collection of intemperate, unreasonable, treacherous, dishonest, inhuman madmen motivated solely by a consuming personal ambition?

"At least, that's the fashionable television characterization of the military leader who commanded our troops in the march of empire beyond the broad Mississippi.

"This is erroneous, outrageous and dangerous type casting. Conceivably it could lead to a situation in which television does to our Army leaders what movies did to our law enforcement officers back in the '20s and '30s . . . the dumb cop who fumbled his way through ridiculous situations in a manner that did little to foster respect for the law."

IN HIS WRITTEN assault, Col. Bell cites among offenders "'the Rifleman," which depicted an Army major as building a career on corpses; "Have Gun, Will Travel," which once dealt with a sergeant who typified the dregs of society; "Bonanza," in which the inhuman treatment of soldiers by one Capt. Bolton had driven the men to infractions; "Death Valley Days"; "Wagon Train"; "Bronco."

"So long as television," Col. Bell adds, "continues to give us irresponsible officers, persists in the tendency to create situations in which enlisted men and their officers are antagonists, elects to make disobedience a normal thing, just so long will there be a danger that the Army will be undermined and confidence in our officer corps compromised."

The charge is valid and warrants concern. The Westerns turned Army men into villains when pressure groups forced the industry to show Indians in a more respectable light.

Since the Westerns are on their way out, horse opera producers might consider making the Paladins and Matt Dillons and Lucas McKanes the "heavies," and cause them to meet a rotter's just end.

Why not? They're not long for this TV world anyway!

STEVE ALLEN'S coming ABC series will shun guest stars, and not only for bugetary reasons. Says an Allen associate: "Stars will not be hired first only to have us struggle to write material for them later." . . .

A pay-TV network for doctors only is being developed by Teleglobe Pay-TV System, Inc., with the idea of serving physicians in the New York area with up-to-date medical information culled from bulletins, conventions, courses and experiments. Teleglobe now is seeking FCC authorization to proceed with the "operation." . . .

Reflections of '60-61 TV glories: Of the 67 specials on TV this season, the highest-rated shows were REPEATS — "Peter Pan" and "The Wizard of Oz."

Wellsville Man Faces Trial On Non-Support

Trial of Donald Williams of Wellsville R.D. 1, charged with non-support of his four minor children, will begin Wednesday before Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon.

Defense counsel then asked for a continuance until it could obtain his work records along with income tax reports for 1958 and 1959, the years he was charged with non-support.

Since then he has kept up his support payments.

Get Warning On Cuts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Superintendents of Ohio's mental hospitals are being warned that, if the legislature reduces the budget of the Department of Mental Hygiene - Correction as expected, they must know before July 1 what personnel and operations cuts to make. Dr. Robert A. Haines, department director, said conferences with each superintendent are being held now.

Cold Weather Delays Local Strawberries

Strawberry time is just around the corner, according to Richard Skinner, marketing agent with the Co-operative Extension Service in Canfield.

Some growers in the area are picking berries now, while others will not begin to pick until later in the week, he said.

The season is about two weeks late this year because of cold spring which held berries back.

Many growers lost a good part of their crop because of the frost. However, many growers used irrigation or sprayed their plants with water to prevent frost damage and as a result saved their crops.

Unless we have more extreme weather there should be a fair crop of berries, which means berries should be economical to freeze during the week of June 19, Skinner said. The less time it takes to get the berries from the field to your freezer, the better the flavor will be next winter, he added.

Greenhouse tomatoes are on the vegetable counters in good supply and are probably as low in price now as they are going to be this season, which runs from April to July. You can expect to buy excellent quality tomatoes for 39 cents a pound this weekend.

Nearly all of the greenhouse tomatoes found on the markets are coming from greenhouses in this area or from the Cleveland area. There is over 400 acres under glass in the Cleveland area—third largest in the world, exceeded only by Holland and England.

The green calyx or stem is the "trademark" of greenhouse tomatoes. The common displays of three or four tomatoes are not greenhouse tomatoes. These tomatoes are picked green in the south and shipped to this area, where they are then ripened and packaged.

For top flavor do not store tomatoes in the refrigerator, Skinner said. Low temperatures inhibit the development of full flavor. Storage at temperatures of 40 to 60 degrees keeps tomatoes at their best. Tomatoes that are not fully ripe or that have a greenish cast should be ripened at room temperature away from direct sunlight. Place tomatoes in the refrigerator two to three hours to chill before serving, he suggested.

Meanwhile, Alma I. Dotson, 524 Market St., told police Monday the front of her parked 1960 four-door sedan was damaged in a hit-skip crash Sunday at 10 p. m. on E. 6th St. She gave police a license number which was traced to a 1959 sedan owned by a Pittsburgh man.

Court Backs AEC On New Atomic-Plant

The commission granted a permit to Power Reactor Development Co. to build a fast neutron breeder-type reactor about midway between Detroit, Mich., and Toledo, Ohio. But the U.S. Court of Appeals said commission findings that the plant could be operated without undue risk to the public were inadequate.

Power Reactor Development Co. and the commission appealed to the high tribunal to overturn the lower court and uphold the permit. Solicitor General Archibald Cox argued that the commission had followed the law and its own regulations properly in granting the permit.

Commission licensing procedures, said Cox, provide a step-by-step review of safety factors and do not permit actual operation of a plant until all safety questions are answered satisfactorily.

Stevenson Flies To Chile Today; Visits Paraguay

ASUNCION, Paraguay (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson today flies on to Chile after an overnight stop in South America's only dictatorship.

Touring South America as President Kennedy's special envoy, the chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations came to Paraguay after issuing a blast at dictators. But his meeting with Paraguay President Alfredo Stroessner, considered the continent's only remaining dictator, was friendly and unstrained.

Their talk, sandwiched in before Stevenson dined with the foreign minister, was brief and details were not disclosed. But the Paraguayan government is known as one of the Americas' strongest supporters of U.S. policy.

Leaving Rio de Janeiro Monday Stevenson told newsmen "we in the Americas don't like dictatorship." Asked why he was going to Paraguay, he replied his trip "was not arranged through personal preference but to visit all 10 capitals in South America."

In Asuncion Stevenson received the warmest public welcome of his tour. About 1,000 persons greeted him at the airport, and there was a military honor guard and band.

Stevenson's brief airport speech was marked by the absence of any mention of President Stroessner. He was applauded when he spoke of the spirit of independence among the Paraguayan people.

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — Roy Thompson, superintendent of Clermont County schools, has been asked to resign. The county's board of education voted 3-1 Monday to seek Thompson's removal after eight years in office.

Missing Security Clerk Is Found

The Pentagon stressed that Covington was not under arrest. "He has done nothing wrong that we know of," one official said.

Prime Time Runs Out For Westerns

For TV's long-reigning Westerns, the sands of prime time are running out. Even the American Broadcasting Co., known these many years as "The Western Network," is forsaking the horse opera in a bid for recognition as the network with the "leastest" — four weekly sagebrush sagas in the new season, that is, against CBS' five and NBC's six. The Western is in decline for the first time in five trigger-happy years. Seven of the shoot-em-ups currently galloping across home screens will report to Boot Hill before the new season, leaving all of prime time network TV with but 15 horse operas, or a drop from 16 hours a week to 12½.

AND IF TIME doesn't eventually kill TV's Westerns, "pressure" surely will. With cactus violence the target of mounting criticism among parents and Washington investigators alike, a voice from the United States Army finds something else to complain about, to wit, the "objectionable representative of yesterday's army and its officers" in TV Westerns.

"History records that the United State Army played a major role in the winning of the west — but the American television audience may yet be brainwashed into questioning this statement.

"HOW," asks the colonel, "could the Army have contributed much to the taming of our wild frontier when its officers were a collection of intemperate, unreasonable, treacherous, dishonest, inhuman madmen motivated solely by a consuming personal ambition?

"At least, that's the fashionable television characterization of the military leader who commanded our troops in the march of empire beyond the broad Mississippi.

"This is erroneous, outrageous and dangerous type casting. Conceivably it could lead to a situation in which television does to our Army leaders what movies did to our law enforcement officers back in the '20s and '30s . . . the dumb cop who fumbled his way through ridiculous situations in a manner that did little to foster respect for the law."

IN HIS WRITTEN assault, Col. Bell cites among offenders "'the Rifleman," which depicted an Army major as building a career on corpses; "Have Gun, Will Travel," which once dealt with a sergeant who typified the dregs of society; "Bonanza," in which the inhuman treatment of soldiers by one Capt. Bolton had driven the men to infractions; "Death Valley Days"; "Wagon Train"; "Bronco."

"So long as television," Col. Bell adds, "continues to give us irresponsible officers, persists in the tendency to create situations in which enlisted men and their officers are antagonists, elects to make disobedience a normal thing, just so long will there be a danger that the Army will be undermined and confidence in our officer corps compromised."

The charge is valid and warrants concern. The Westerns turned Army men into villains when pressure groups forced the industry to show Indians in a more respectable light.

Since the Westerns are on their way out, horse opera producers might consider making the Paladins and Matt Dillons and Lucas McKanes the "heavies," and cause them to meet a rotter's just end.

Why not? They're not long for this TV world anyway!

STEVE ALLEN'S coming ABC series will shun guest stars, and not only for bugetary reasons. Says an Allen associate: "Stars will not be hired first only to have us struggle to write material for them later." . . .

A pay-TV network for doctors only is being developed by Teleglobe Pay-TV System, Inc., with the idea of serving physicians in the New York area with up-to-date medical information culled from bulletins, conventions, courses and experiments. Teleglobe now is seeking FCC authorization to proceed with the "operation." . . .

Reflections of '60-61 TV glories: Of the 67 specials on TV this season, the highest-rated shows were REPEATS — "Peter Pan" and "The Wizard of Oz."

Wellsville Man Faces Trial On Non-Support

Trial of Donald Williams of Wellsville R.D. 1, charged with non-support of his four minor children, will begin Wednesday before Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon.

Williams was indicted by the recalled April 1960 Grand Jury and pleaded innocent at arraignment July 7, 1960.

Defense counsel then asked for a continuance until it could obtain his work records along with income tax reports for 1958 and 1959, the years he was charged with non-support.

Since then he has kept up his support payments.

Get Warning On Cuts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Superintendents of Ohio's mental hospitals are being warned that, if the legislature reduces the budget of the Department of Mental Hygiene - Correction as expected, they must know before July 1 what personnel and operations cuts to make. Dr. Robert A. Haines, department director, said conferences with each superintendent are being held now.

Cold Weather Delays Local Strawberries

Strawberry time is just around the corner, according to Richard Skinner, marketing agent with the Co-operative Extension Service in Canfield.

Some growers in the area are picking berries now, while others will not begin to pick until later in the week, he said.

The season is about two weeks late this year because of cold spring which held berries back.

Many growers lost a good part of their crop because of the frost. However, many growers used irrigation or sprayed their plants with water to prevent frost damage and as a result saved their crops.

Unless we have more extreme weather there should be a fair crop of berries, which means berries should be economical to freeze during the week of June 19, Skinner said. The less time it takes to get the berries from the field to your freezer, the better the flavor will be next winter, he added.

Greenhouse tomatoes are on the vegetable counters in good supply and are probably as low in price now as they are going to be this season, which runs from April to July. You can expect to buy excellent quality tomatoes for 39 cents a pound this weekend.

Nearly all of the greenhouse tomatoes found on the markets are coming from greenhouses in this area or from the Cleveland area. There is over 400 acres under glass in the Cleveland area—third largest in the world, exceeded only by Holland and England.

The green calyx or stem is the "trademark" of greenhouse tomatoes. The common displays of three or four tomatoes are not greenhouse tomatoes. These tomatoes are picked green in the south and shipped to this area, where they are then ripened and packaged.

For top flavor do not store tomatoes in the refrigerator, Skinner said. Low temperatures inhibit the development of full flavor. Storage at temperatures of 40 to 60 degrees keeps tomatoes at their best. Tomatoes that are not fully ripe or that have a greenish cast should be ripened at room temperature away from direct sunlight. Place tomatoes in the refrigerator two to three hours to chill before serving, he suggested.

Backing Auto Strikes Motorcycle's Fender

A 19-year-old youth told police Monday night his halted motorcycle was damaged when hit by a backing car at W. 9th St. and Dresden Ave.

James A. Watson told officers the front fender of his 1947 model motorcycle was struck about 8:45 while he was halted for a traffic light at the intersection. In a report to police, he furnished a license number of the car.

Meanwhile, Alma I. Dotson, 524 Market St., told police Monday the front of her parked 1960 four-door sedan was damaged in a hit-skip crash Sunday at 10 p. m. on E. 6th St. She gave police a license number which was traced to a 1959 sedan owned by a Pittsburgh man.

Court Backs AEC On New Atomic-Plant

The commission granted a permit to Power Reactor Development Co. to build a fast neutron breeder-type reactor about midway between Detroit, Mich., and Toledo, Ohio. But the U.S. Court of Appeals said commission findings that the plant could be operated without undue risk to the public were inadequate.

Power Reactor Development Co. and the commission appealed to the high tribunal to overturn the lower court and uphold the permit. Solicitor General Archibald Cox argued that the commission had followed the law and its own regulations properly in granting the permit.

Commission licensing procedures, said Cox, provide a step-by-step review of safety factors and do not permit actual operation of a plant until all safety questions are answered satisfactorily.

Stevenson Flies To Chile Today; Visits Paraguay

ASUNCION, Paraguay (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson today flies on to Chile after an overnight stop in South America's only dictatorship.

Touring South America as President Kennedy's special envoy, the chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations came to Paraguay after issuing a blast at dictators. But his meeting with Paraguay President Alfredo Stroessner, considered the continent's only remaining dictator, was friendly and unstrained.

Their talk, sandwiched in before Stevenson dined with the foreign minister, was brief and details were not disclosed. But the Paraguayan government is known as one of the Americas' strongest supporters of U.S. policy.

Leaving Rio de Janeiro Monday Stevenson told newsmen "we in the Americas don't like dictatorship." Asked why he was going to Paraguay, he replied his trip "was not arranged through personal preference but to visit all 10 capitals in South America."

In Asuncion Stevenson received the warmest public welcome of his tour. About 1,000 persons greeted him at the airport, and there was a military honor guard and band.

Stevenson's brief airport speech was marked by the absence of any mention of President Stroessner. He was applauded when he spoke of the spirit of independence among the Paraguayan people.

HOPELESS CASES REFUSED
Lesley Consultants have established a very high reputation in the field for refusing any case that does not fall under the scope of their work. As evidence of his sincerity in believing you may be helped, the Lesley consultant wishes you to understand that the majority of cases of baldness or excessive hair loss are of a type known as male pattern baldness. In such cases there is at present no known treatment which will prevent or overcome baldness or excessive hair loss or induce hair to grow or cause the hair to become thicker. You should beware of any claim to the contrary made by any hair specialist.

Fortunately there are thousands upon thousands of people who, while losing their hair, DO NOT SUFFER FROM MALE PATTERN BALDNESS. Mr. Warren Feathers and Miss Sandy Curren shown in photos were among those who did not suffer from male pattern baldness and as you can see responded to the Lesley Home Treatments which they applied in the privacy of their own homes.

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

Park Receiving Good Play . . .

Summer recreation has reached a new peak at Thompson Park, with tennis, basketball, swimming and shuffle board getting the most play, directors Bob Hedmond and Jim Harris report.

The park has been open two weeks and those interested in athletic recreation are taking advantage of the new facilities.

We have heard local people ask many times when they visit parks out of town, why can't East Liverpool have parks like this?

They need ask no longer. There are more facilities in the park here then ever before.

EQUIPMENT can be obtained at the park from a monitor at the pool office. Each person using a piece of equipment will be personally responsible for its return at the end of the play period.

The person who receives the equipment must leave an identification card (driver's license, etc) at the office. When the equipment is returned, the card will be returned.

SINCE the interest has been running high, tournaments will be set up in horseshoes, volleyball, softball and track and field.

Tennis Clinic Set . . .

Ralph Mason of Pittsburgh will conduct the session through cooperation of the Wilson Sporting Goods Co. Tuesday, June 20, at 6:30 p. m. at the Thompson Park courts.

Harris and Hedmond report that the tennis clinic is free, open to all ages, and will emphasize tennis fundamentals. An exhibition and question-and-answer period also may be included in the 1½-hour program.

Leagues In Full Swing . . .

BASEBALL and softball leagues are in operation in the city this summer. East Liverpool's baseball leagues include eight teams in the Minor League, eight more in the Little League, six in the County City League, five in the Pony League and six in Junior Legion baseball.

In softball, the City League is operating with five teams, while the YMCA-Church softball loop is scheduled to get under way soon.

Around the area, South Side has a new Hot Stove League, which consists of five teams in the Pony League division and six in the Little League.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

JOHN BLANDA, former Steubenville College basketball standout, tied the knot Saturday, when he was married to Emily Stolarczyk of New Cumberland. Among his brothers attending the wedding was George Blanda the passing star now with Houston of the American Football League.

—:—

EARL BYERS, a native of Canton and football coach at Mt. Pleasant High, has been named head grid and basketball coach at Jefferson Union High School.

He replaces Frank Blaskovich in football and Len Mosser in basketball.

A REQUEST by Massillon football coach Leo Strang to have the Tigers play Miami Edison, the Florida state champion, in a home-and-home series in football has been turned down by the Ohio High School athletic commissioner.

Miami would have played at Massillon this coming season, with the Tigers flying to Florida the following year. Strang was guaranteed a crowd of 40,000 in the Orange Bowl by Edison officials.

BEAVER LOCAL is looking for a home basketball game for either Dec. 8 or 9. Any school interested may contact Bruce Costanzo, the school's new athletic director.

—:—

A BENEFIT game between a team picked from the Cox-Merchants and East Palestine Merchants and the Cleveland White Sox will be played next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at East Palestine City Park. It was previously announced in error for June 11. Proceeds will go towards defraying expenses of injured players in the County - City League.

Idle Tigers, Yanks Gain On Leaders

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kansas City defeated Cleveland 7-5 in 10 innings Monday night and cut the Indians' American League lead to one game over New York and Detroit.

New York moved .004 percentage points ahead of idle Detroit with a 3-1 victory over the Los Angeles Angels.

The Chicago White Sox defeated Baltimore 9-8, and Boston beat Minnesota 10-8 in the only other games scheduled in the AL.

The Yankees, working behind the four-hit pitching of right-hander Bill Stafford, broke up a two-hit shutout by losing lefty Ted Bowsfield (2-2) and came from behind with three runs in the sixth inning. Singles by Tony Kubek, Mickey Mantle and Elston Howard, a force out by Bill Skowron and a double by Hector Lopez did it.

Stafford (4-2), winning his fourth in a row, held the A's hitless until the fifth inning, when Leroy Thomas opened with a single and scored on a double by Ken Hunt, who was cut down trying for a triple. Stafford walked two and struck out seven for his third complete game—the eighth in 14 games by the Yankees staff, which had produced only six in the first 42 games.

The A's tagged the Indians with their third defeat in 16 games When Haywood Sullivan singled for his fourth hit in the 10th and pinch-hitter Leo Posada followed with a two-run, two-out homer off relief ace Frank Funk (7-4). Kansas City tied it 5-all with two runs in the ninth as Cleveland missed double plays. Jerry Walker, seventh Kansas City pitcher, saved it for reliever Jim Archer (4-1) when Vic Power bunted into a force out and Kirkland and Woodie Held flied out with two on base.

Roy Sievers drove in three runs with a pair of homers for the White Sox, who nailed it on Al Smith's solo homer in the eighth off relief ace Hoyt Wilhelm. Dick Hyde (1-1) was the loser. Don Larsen (2-0), acquired Saturday from Kansas City, was the winner in relief.

A walk and Chuck Schilling's two-out single gave Boston the deciding run in the seventh. The Twins out-hit the Red Sox 15-11, and slugged three home runs, but left 17 on base. Ike Delock (4-2) won it with relief help.

The Giants, beating right-hander Roger Craig (3-4) for the first time in nine decisions since 1955, dropped the Dodgers with three runs in the fifth inning for a 7-2 lead. Orlando Cepeda's double scored the clincher. Billy O'Dell (2-3) was the winner.

Simballa Receives Greene Award

GEORGE SIMBALLA (center) became the third and youngest recipient of the Johnny Greene Memorial Trophy, which was presented at the annual City Association banquet Monday night at the Travelers Hotel. The trophy is presented annually to the bowler who best exemplified the fine spirit of sportsmanship which was a trademark of Johnny Greene. Simballa, 32, who rolls in three bowling leagues, was past president of the City Association. He is shown accepting the trophy from Ike Shannon (left), president of the City Association, while Harry Early, secretary looks on. Attending last night's banquet were 110 bowlers representing the National, Federal and American Leagues. Past winners of the Johnny Green award are Glenn "Buck" Wilson and Al Sayre.

Torn Shoulder Muscle ?

Law Worried About Future

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ailing Vernon Law is starting to worry about his future with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Someone else may be wearing his Pirate uniform next year if the ailment isn't cleared up soon, he said Monday.

"I'm not helping the club at all the way I'm pitching now," Law said. "I want to pitch, but I want to do my job the right way."

Law has won three games this year while losing four, a far cry from the pace he set last year when he won 20 while losing nine.

Manager Danny Murtaugh gave Law a long rest after he got hurt in April. Since then, Law has made a few starts and failed to go the distance. He has picked up two victories.

Law said he has done everything to cure the trouble—hard exercise at times and a lot of rest at others—but nothing seems to help.

"I just don't know what's wrong and I don't think anyone else does either," he said.

"I'm hoping the warm weather will help the arm. If it doesn't, I don't know what I'll do."

Hogan Tabs Open Course 'Monster'

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP)—Oakland Hills, where the 61st National Open Golf Tournament will be played starting Thursday, is "a monster" under normal conditions.

Seared by the kind of heat that has locked the Detroit area in its grip the last 24 hours, says Bob Rosburg, "it could make it impossible."

Rosburg, as knowledgeable a golfer as you'll find in the list of 149 challengers to defending champion Arnold Palmer, had just trudged in from another practice spin around the 6,907 yard, par 35-35—70 course on a day the thermometer rocketed to 91.

Bob, former PGA champion now registering from Portland, Ore., shot a 2-under-par 68, and, except for the heat and the weatherman's hint of more of it, might have been a good deal more optimistic.

Ben Hogan, who won his third of four open titles the last time America's golf classic was played here in 1951, is the one who has tabbed Oakland Hills—with its skinny fairways, fat traps, rolling greens and lush, thick rough—"the monster."

"It's tough enough as it is," said Rosburg. "The greens right now are in pretty lush shape and they're still a real challenge. If this heat should continue, and dry them out some, it's going to be impossible."

Husky, bronzed Palmer hustled back here after a couple days off for exhibitions and other appearances and shot a warmup 69—a score matched by former PGA champion Doug Ford, who beat Arnie in the sudden death playoff of the Speedway 500 tournament at Indianapolis two weeks back.

Gary Player, the South African who won the Masters title when Palmer blew to a duffer's 6 on the last hole at Augusta, has been looking at the course from all angles—playing as many as four balls on some holes.

Katz Defends Liston After Latest Run In

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An angry George Katz, manager of heavyweight Sonny Liston, said today he doesn't think the No. 1 championship contender will be convicted of charges of impersonating a police officer "because the whole thing was a mistake."

Katz said, too, that he didn't think Liston's latest in a series of squabbles with the law Monday would hurt his chances for a shot at Floyd Patterson's heavyweight title.

Hindman said Monday night from his home in Hagerstown, Ind., that "if Liston is guilty of that kind of crime, he has no business in boxing."

"It's about time I got a little burned up. Nobody says anything about the good things Liston does like playing baseball with kids. Nobody's holy. Anybody's liable to get into trouble. You just can't come out with a statement that you think somebody ought to be knocked out of boxing."

The charge against Liston was brought after two men stopped Mrs. Dolores Ellis, 29, of suburban Lansdowne, as she drove through the lonely reaches of Fairmount Park before dawn Monday.

Mrs. Ellis, who was not harmed, said she was under the impression she had been halted by police.

She and the two men are Negroes.

"I think the whole thing was a mistake," said Katz. "They (Liston and Isaac Cooper) didn't say they were officers. Mr. Hindman got the wrong information. They thought they knew this person. Sonny is a fun-loving person who likes to play pranks."

Cincy Shows Losing Record Of 2-4 Against Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds, buoyed by three victories in a row, will have a try at bettering their poor record against the Pittsburgh Pirates tonight.

The Reds have won 33 and lost 21 and are first in the National League, but against the Pirates, their record is 2-4.

Jim Maloney, also 4-2, has no record in relation to the Bucs this year. In 1960, his first in the majors, he was defeated by Pittsburgh once.

Though Maloney's 3.60 earned run average is far from tops among Red pitchers he's the second best batsman among them with a .308 average. And he's the only Cincinnati hurler who has hit a home run this year.

Potters Increase Minor Loop Lead

Potters Savings & Loan defeated First National Bank, 7-6 in the Minor League Monday.

In another contest, T.S. & T. outlasted Tri-State Appliance for a 14-12 victory. Terry Humphrey was the winning pitcher, fanning 11 batters while C. Stevens was the hitting star with two safeties and four RBI's. Ed Carpenter collected two of Tri-State's five hits. The losers committed five errors to help T.S.& T. to the victory.

Park Receiving Good Play . . .

Summer recreation has reached a new peak at Thompson Park, with tennis, basketball, swimming and shuffle board getting the most play, directors Bob Hedmond and Jim Harris report.

The park has been open two weeks and those interested in athletic recreation are taking advantage of the new facilities.

We have heard local people ask many times when they visit parks out of town, why can't East Liverpool have parks like this?

They need ask no longer. There are more facilities in the park here then ever before.

A baseball diamond located in the lower park area, a running track, horseshoe pits and badminton courts are new this summer.

EQUIPMENT can be obtained at the park from a monitor at the pool office. Each person using a piece of equipment will be personally responsible for its return at the end of the play period.

The person who receives the equipment must leave an identification card (driver's license, etc) at the office. When the equipment is returned, the card will be returned.

SINCE the interest has been running high, tournaments will be set up in horseshoes, volleyball, softball and track and field.

Tennis Clinic Set . . .

Basketball and football clinics have become popular in the sporting world, and now comes a tennis clinic.

Ralph Mason of Pittsburgh will conduct the session through cooperation of the Wilson Sporting Goods Co. Tuesday, June 20, at 6:30 p. m. at the Thompson Park courts.

Harris and Hedmond report that the tennis clinic is free, open to all ages, and will emphasize tennis fundamentals. An exhibition and question-and-answer period also may be included in the 1½-hour program.

Leagues In Full Swing . . .

BASEBALL and softball leagues are in operation in the city this summer. East Liverpool's baseball leagues include eight teams in the Minor League, eight more in the Little League, six in the County City League, five in the Pony League and six in Junior Legion baseball.

In softball, the City League is operating with five teams, while the YMCA-Church softball loop is scheduled to get under way soon.

Around the area, South Side has a new Hot Stove League, which consists of five teams in the Pony League division and six in the Little League.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

JOHN BLANDA, former Steubenville College basketball standout, tied the knot Saturday, when he was married to Emily Stolarczyk of New Cumberland. Among his brothers attending the wedding was George Blanda the passing star now with Houston of the American Football League.

EARL BYERS, a native of Canton and football coach at Mt. Pleasant High, has been named head grid and basketball coach at Jefferson Union High School.

He replaces Frank Blaskovich in football and Len Mosser in basketball.

A REQUEST by Massillon football coach Leo Strang to have the Tigers play Miami Edison, the Florida state champion, in a home-and-home series in football has been turned down by the Ohio High School athletic commissioner.

Miami would have played at Massillon this coming season, with the Tigers flying to Florida the following year. Strang was guaranteed a crowd of 40,000 in the Orange Bowl by Edison officials.

BEAVER LOCAL is looking for a home basketball game for either Dec. 8 or 9. Any school interested may contact Bruce Costanzo, the school's new athletic director.

A BENEFIT game between a team picked from the Cox-Merchants and East Palestine Merchants and the Cleveland White Sox will be played next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at East Palestine City Park. Idle Tigers, Yanks Gain On Leaders

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kansas City defeated Cleveland 7-5 in 10 innings Monday night and cut the Indians' American League lead to one game over New York and Detroit.

New York moved .004 percentage points ahead of idle Detroit with a 3-1 victory over the Los Angeles Angels.

The Chicago White Sox defeated Baltimore 9-8, and Boston beat Minnesota 10-8 in the only other games scheduled in the AL.

The Yankees, working behind the four-hit pitching of right-hander Bill Stafford, broke up a two-hit shutout by losing lefty Ted Bowsfield (2-2) and came from behind with three runs in the sixth inning. Singles by Tony Kubek, Mickey Mantle and Elston Howard, a force out by Bill Skowron and a double by Hector Lopez did it.

Stafford (4-2), winning his fourth in a row, held the A's hitless until the fifth inning, when Leroy Thomas opened with a single and scored on a double by Ken Hunt, who was cut down trying for a triple. Stafford walked two and struck out seven for his third complete game—the eighth in 14 games by the Yankees staff, which had produced only six in the first 42 games.

The A's tagged the Indians with their third defeat in 16 games When Haywood Sullivan singled for his fourth hit in the 10th and pinch-hitter Leo Posada followed with a two-run, two-out homer off relief ace Frank Funk (7-4). Kansas City tied it 5-all with two runs in the ninth as Cleveland missed double plays. Jerry Walker, seventh Kansas City pitcher, saved it for reliever Jim Archer (4-1) when Vic Power bunted into a force out and Kirkland and Woodie Held flied out with two on base.

Roy Sievers drove in three runs with a pair of homers for the White Sox, who nailed it on Al Smith's solo homer in the eighth off relief ace Hoyt Wilhelm. Dick Hyde (1-1) was the loser. Don Larsen (2-0), acquired Saturday from Kansas City, was the winner in relief.

A walk and Chuck Schilling's two-out single gave Boston the deciding run in the seventh. The Twins out-hit the Red Sox 15-11, and slugged three home runs, but left 17 on base. Ike Delock (4-2) won it with relief help.

The Giants, beating right-hander Roger Craig (3-4) for the first time in nine decisions since 1955, dropped the Dodgers with three runs in the fifth inning for a 7-2 lead. Orlando Cepeda's double scored the clincher. Billy O'Dell (2-3) was the winner.

Torn Shoulder Muscle ?

Law Worried About Future

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ailing Vernon Law is starting to worry about his future with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Someone else may be wearing his Pirate uniform next year if the ailment isn't cleared up soon, he said Monday.

"I'm not helping the club at all the way I'm pitching now," Law said. "I want to pitch, but I want to do my job the right way."

Law has won three games this year while losing four, a far cry from the pace he set last year when he won 20 while losing nine.

Manager Danny Murtaugh gave Law a long rest after he got hurt in April. Since then, Law has made a few starts and failed to go the distance. He has picked up two victories.

Law said he has done everything to cure the trouble—hard exercise at times and a lot of rest at others—but nothing seems to help.

"I just don't know what's wrong and I don't think anyone else does either," he said.

"I'm hoping the warm weather will help the arm. If it doesn't, I don't know what I'll do."

Hogan Tabs Open Course 'Monster'

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP)—Oakland Hills, where the 61st National Open Golf Tournament will be played starting Thursday, is "a monster" under normal conditions.

Seared by the kind of heat that has locked the Detroit area in its grip the last 24 hours, says Bob Rosburg, "it could make it impossible."

Rosburg, as knowledgeable a golfer as you'll find in the list of 149 challengers to defending champion Arnold Palmer, had just trudged in from another practice spin around the 6,907 yard, par 35-35—70 course on a day the thermometer rocketed to 91.

Bob, former PGA champion now registering from Portland, Ore., shot a 2-under-par 68, and, except for the heat and the weatherman's hint of more of it, might have been a good deal more optimistic.

Ben Hogan, who won his third of four open titles the last time America's golf classic was played here in 1951, is the one who has tabbed Oakland Hills—with its skinny fairways, fat traps, rolling greens and lush, thick rough—"the monster."

"It's tough enough as it is," said Rosburg. "The greens right now are in pretty lush shape and they're still a real challenge. If this heat should continue, and dry them out some, it's going to be impossible."

Husky, bronzed Palmer hustled back here after a couple days off for exhibitions and other appearances and shot a warmup 69—a score matched by former PGA champion Doug Ford, who beat Arnie in the sudden death playoff of the Speedway 500 tournament at Indianapolis two weeks back.

Gary Player, the South African who won the Masters title when Palmer blew to a duffer's 6 on the last hole at Augusta, has been looking at the course from all angles—playing as many as four balls on some holes.

Katz Defends Liston After Latest Run In

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An angry George Katz, manager of heavyweight Sonny Liston, said today he doesn't think the No. 1 championship contender will be convicted of charges of impersonating a police officer "because the whole thing was a mistake."

Katz said, too, that he didn't think Liston's latest in a series of squabbles with the law Monday would hurt his chances for a shot at Floyd Patterson's heavyweight title.

Katz took exception to a statement by Arch Hindman, executive secretary of the National Boxing Association and former president of the group.

Hindman said Monday night from his home in Hagerstown, Ind., that "if Liston is guilty of that kind of crime, he has no business in boxing."

Katz blew up at Hindman's statement, saying:

"It's about time I got a little burned up. Nobody says anything about the good things Liston does like playing baseball with kids. Nobody's holy. Anybody's liable to get into trouble. You just can't come out with a statement that you think somebody ought to be knocked out of boxing."

The charge against Liston was brought after two men stopped Mrs. Dolores Ellis, 29, of suburban Lansdowne, as she drove through the lonely reaches of Fairmount Park before dawn Monday.

Mrs. Ellis, who was not harmed, said she was under the impression she had been halted by police.

She and the two men are Negroes.

"I think the whole thing was a mistake," said Katz. "They (Liston and Isaac Cooper) didn't say they were officers. Mr. Hindman got the wrong information. They thought they knew this person. Sonny is a fun-loving person who likes to play pranks."

Tragic Irony Disclosed In 7 Slayings By 2 Youths

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) —Two teen-agers, in a tale of tragic irony, say they embarked on seven slayings in five states because as long as they had killed one "we might as well keep on."

But the man they thought they had killed didn't die. Had they quit there, they wouldn't be facing murder charges.

There's another irony. Both James Douglas Latham, 19, Mauriceville, Tex., and George Ronald York, 18, Jacksonville, Fla., say they want to die. They'd prefer the electric chair. But the states with seemingly the strongest cases execute by other means —Kansas by hanging and Colorado by the gas chamber.

What started it? The Army, they claimed at a news conference in Salt Lake County jail Monday. They complained about army harassment. They objected to racial integration in the Army and to serving under Negro officers.

Though they expressed some offhand regret for some of the killings, they didn't for the slaying of John A. Whitaker, an elderly Negro railroad porter in Tullahoma, Tenn., who was robbed and shot to death.

"He was black," York explained. And Latham added: "We don't feel bad about killing a nigger."

Both are AWOL from the Army. They fled a disciplinary unit at Fort Hood, Tex., May 24. Latham was serving six months and was to get a bad-conduct discharge for taking $40 from a fellow soldier. York had been given six months for being AWOL.

"We got what we were working for," said York, "to get out of this stinking rat race on the outside."

But York said he doubted they would have killed anyone else if they had known that Edward J. Guidroz, the man slugged and left for dead near Baton Rouge, La., had survived.

LISBON — Two motorists were fined $5 and costs each Monday by County Judge James L. MacDonald and eight others forfeited bonds totaling $120 on charges of speeding after being cited by the State Highway Patrol in a speedmeter check on Route 45 north of Lisbon.

Fined were Robert J. Buck, 28, of Canton and Cliffford R. Moore, 52, of Canfield.

Forfeiting $15 bonds were David L. Tice, 31, of Wellsville, Clarence May, 48, of Hanoverton, William E. Davis, 35, of Euclid, Robert S. Adams, 55, and Carl J. Walkush, 22, both of Cleveland, Louis J. CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A crackdown on violators of the Sunday closing law has begun in Stark County. A total of 41 persons will appear in Canton court today or Wednesday, with another 31 scheduled to face the charges in Massillon and 12 in Alliance.

Leonard Russo, 33, of Akron, Monday pleaded guilty of violating the Sunday blue law and was fined $25 by Canton Municipal Judge Adolph Unger. Stark County Sheriff W. J. Hine, who curtailed offday schedules to put 25 deputies on Sunday laws enforcement, said his policy will continue.

Kennedys' Seen Asking Change In Jobless Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is expected to propose to Congress today a broad overhaul of the unemployment compensation system.

The White House gave no advance hint of details.

However, the administration for some time has been reported contemplating seeking a boost in the amount and duration of benefits paid to idled workers as well as an increase in the payroll taxes paid by employers to finance the insurance plan.

Kennedy has been working since he took office in January on a permanent revision of the unemployment compensation program—part of the Social Security System enacted during the Roosevelt New Deal.

Federal action to raise the amount of benefits would be a departure from tradition. Until now the level of benefits has been left to the states to fix, with the result that benefits vary widely from state to state. The nationwide average is about $32 per week.

Congress twice has had to lengthen duration of benefits for temporary periods to combat privation among the jobless during recessions. This happened first during the administration of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower after the 1958 recession.

Again this spring Congress enacted a temporary program to extend by a maximum of 13 weeks the benefits a worker can receive after exhausting his regular benefits. In most states regular benefits run for a maximum of 26 weeks.

Major League's Crowds Continue 10% Under 1960

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league baseball attendance for 1961 continues 10 per cent under last season despite the addition of the two new American League teams, the latest figures disclosed today.

Through Sunday's games, this season's total was 5,845,453 compared with 6,501,438 for the 16 teams in 1960.

The National League, which has played to 2,892,682 customers, is 693,000 behind last year. The American League's aggregate of 2,952,771 is 36,000 ahead of 1960, but includes the combined 548,000 gate of the new franchises, Minnesota (340,000) and Los Angeles (208,000).

Cincinnati and Washington are the only clubs showing increases. The Reds are up 29,000 and the Senators a mere 239.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, who lead both leagues, moved close to the 800,000 mark over the week-end. But they are 158,000 under last year.

Sears Ruled Free To Play In Pro Loop For Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Kenny Sears is free to play professional basketball for the San Francisco Saints until a suit against him by the New York Knickerbockers is settled.

This was the gist of a dismissal by Federal Judge George B. Harris Monday of a motion by the New York club of the National Basketball Association seeking a preliminary injunction against Sears. Sears is a six-year Knicks' veteran who decided to jump to the new American Basketball League for next season.

In addition to the suit against Sears, the Knicks have a suit against the Saints for $175,000 in damages. Sears in his turn has filed for $90,000 treble anti-trust damages against the NBA, charging the NBA and its teams with monopolistic practices in player contracts.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE OF SALE OF BONDS

Sealed bids will be received by the undersigned Clerk of the Board of Education of the Southern Local School District at the Executive Office in the Salineville High School, West Main Street, Salineville, Ohio, on the 28th day of June, 1961 until 1 p.m. E.D.S.T. (12 noon E.S.T.), at which time the bids will be publicly opened and read for the purchase of bonds of said Board of Education in the aggregate amount of $356,000 authorized to be issued by resolution dated June 1st, 1961.

Said bids will be promptly considered by said Board of Education.

Said bonds shall be dated the first day of July, 1961, shall be in the denomination of $1,000 each, shall draw interest payable semi-annually on the first days of June and December of each year, beginning June 1, 1962, at the rate of four per centum per annum.

Anyone desiring to do so may present a bid for said bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest, but not in excess of six per cent, provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-quarter of one per cent or a multiple thereof.

Said bonds mature as follows: $15,000 on December 1 in each of the years from 1962 to 1973, inclusive, and $16,000 on December 1 in each of the years from 1974 to 1984, inclusive.

Said bonds are issued for the purpose of acquiring and improving school sites, constructing a new high school building, remodeling and improving existing school buildings, and equipping and furnishing school buildings, pursuant to an agreement with the State Board of Education and under authority of Sections 3318.01 to 3318.20, inclusive, of the Revised Code of Ohio.

Said bonds are payable at the office of the legal depositary of the Board, presently, The Citizens Banking Company, Salineville, Ohio.

Said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than par and accrued interest. The lowest interest rate will be determined by calculating the total interest to stated maturity at the rate bid and deducting therefrom the premium. If each of two or more bids is the highest bid offering the lowest interest rate, the bonds will be awarded on such one of said highest bids as is chosen by the said Clerk by lot. All bids must be accompanied by a bond or certified check on a solvent bank (other than the bidder) payable to said Board of Education in the amount of one percent of the par amount of the bonds bid for upon condition that if the bid is accepted the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds within a reasonable time after the award thereof or forfeit the same as liquidated damages in the event said condition is not fulfilled.

Bid shall be sealed and endorsed "Bid for Classroom Facilities Bonds".

The proceedings for this issue have been taken under the supervision of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Bond Attorneys, Cleveland, Ohio, whose approving opinion may be obtained by the successful bidder at his expense. A complete transcript of proceedings and the printed bonds will be furnished by the Board of Education together with a certificate showing no litigation pending or threatened at the time of delivery, to enjoin delivery or to contest the validity of the bonds or the power to issue them or the levy or collection of taxes for their payment.

In the event the interest on said bonds should by act of Congress or otherwise become subject to Federal Income Taxes prior to delivery, the successful bidder may refuse to accept delivery and in such event his bond or certified check shall be returned without interest.

It is contemplated that said Board will meet at 8:00 p.m. on the 28th day of June, 1961, to consider said bids and make an award.

The bonds will be delivered at the office of the undersigned, or such other place as may be agreed on with the successful bidder; if outside of the limits of the School District the bidder will pay expense of delivery at that place.

Before making tender of the bonds at the place of delivery the Board shall give written notice to the successful bidder not later than the third day before the proposed tender, of the fact that the bonds, transcript, no-litigation certificate, and approving opinion will be available for delivery and giving the date and hour for the tender at the said place of delivery, provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the making of a mutually agreeable arrangement for the delivery of the bonds either at the place fixed for delivery or elsewhere.

If such notice has not been given by the Board or waived by the successful bidder and the bonds, transcript, no-litigation certificate and approving opinion are not available for delivery to the successful bidder at such place of delivery on or before 12:00 noon of the 30th calendar day after the day fixed for the receipt of bids, and the successful bidder shall not be in default of any of his obligations, he shall have the right, thereafter and so long as no such tender by the Board shall yet have been made, to cancel the contract of purchase; such right to be exercised by delivering to the undersigned (or to his office during business hours) written notice of such cancellation. Such bidder shall thereupon be entitled to the return of the deposit which accompanied his bid and it shall be returned to him immediately.

Major League's Crowds Continue 10% Under 1960

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league baseball attendance for 1961 continues 10 per cent under last season despite the addition of the two new American League teams, the latest figures disclosed today.

Through Sunday's games, this season's total was 5,845,453 compared with 6,501,438 for the 16 teams in 1960.

The National League, which has played to 2,892,682 customers, is 693,000 behind last year. The American League's aggregate of 2,952,771 is 36,000 ahead of 1960, but includes the combined 548,000 gate of the new franchises, Minnesota (340,000) and Los Angeles (208,000).

Cincinnati and Washington are the only clubs showing increases. The Reds are up 29,000 and the Senators a mere 239.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, who lead both leagues, moved close to the 800,000 mark over the week-end. But they are 158,000 under last year.

Sears Ruled Free To Play In Pro Loop For Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Kenny Sears is free to play professional basketball for the San Francisco Saints until a suit against him by the New York Knickerbockers is settled.

This was the gist of a dismissal by Federal Judge George B. Harris Monday of a motion by the New York club of the National Basketball Association seeking a preliminary injunction against Sears. Sears is a six-year Knicks' veteran who decided to jump to the new American Basketball League for next season.

In addition to the suit against Sears, the Knicks have a suit against the Saints for $175,000 in damages. Sears in his turn has filed for $90,000 treble anti-trust damages against the NBA, charging the NBA and its teams with monopolistic practices in player contracts.

A Decisive Wallop

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — Pitcher Pat House of Wyoming's Cowboys made his first extra base hit of the season a decisive wallop. It was a 465-foot home run against New Mexico. He had three singles in his first 13 trips to the plate.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE OF SALE OF BONDS

Sealed bids will be received by the undersigned Clerk of the Board of Education of the Southern Local School District at the Executive Office in the Salineville High School, West Main Street, Salineville, Ohio, on the 28th day of June, 1961 until 1 p.m. E.D.S.T. (12 noon E.S.T.), at which time the bids will be publicly opened and read for the purchase of bonds of said Board of Education in the aggregate amount of $356,000 authorized to be issued by resolution dated June 1st, 1961.

Said bids will be promptly considered by said Board of Education.

Said bonds shall be dated the first day of July, 1961, shall be in the denomination of $1,000 each, shall draw interest payable semi-annually on the first days of June and December of each year, beginning June 1, 1962, at the rate of four per centum per annum.

Anyone desiring to do so may present a bid for said bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest, but not in excess of six per cent, provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-quarter of one per cent or a multiple thereof.

Said bonds mature as follows: $15,000 on December 1 in each of the years from 1962 to 1973, inclusive, and $16,000 on December 1 in each of the years from 1974 to 1984, inclusive.

Said bonds are issued for the purpose of acquiring and improving school sites, constructing a new high school building, remodeling and improving existing school buildings, and equipping and furnishing school buildings, pursuant to an agreement with the State Board of Education and under authority of Sections 3318.01 to 3318.20, inclusive, of the Revised Code of Ohio.

Said bonds are payable at the office of the legal depositary of the Board, presently, The Citizens Banking Company, Salineville, Ohio.

Said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than par and accrued interest. The lowest interest rate will be determined by calculating the total interest to stated maturity at the rate bid and deducting therefrom the premium. If each of two or more bids is the highest bid offering the lowest interest rate, the bonds will be awarded on such one of said highest bids as is chosen by the said Clerk by lot. All bids must be accompanied by a bond or certified check on a solvent bank (other than the bidder) payable to said Board of Education in the amount of one percent of the par amount of the bonds bid for upon condition that if the bid is accepted the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds within a reasonable time after the award thereof or forfeit the same as liquidated damages in the event said condition is not fulfilled.

Bid shall be sealed and endorsed "Bid for Classroom Facilities Bonds".

The proceedings for this issue have been taken under the supervision of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Bond Attorneys, Cleveland, Ohio, whose approving opinion may be obtained by the successful bidder at his expense. A complete transcript of proceedings and the printed bonds will be furnished by the Board of Education together with a certificate showing no litigation pending or threatened at the time of delivery, to enjoin delivery or to contest the validity of the bonds or the power to issue them or the levy or collection of taxes for their payment.

In the event the interest on said bonds should by act of Congress or otherwise become subject to Federal Income Taxes prior to delivery, the successful bidder may refuse to accept delivery and in such event his bond or certified check shall be returned without interest.

It is contemplated that said Board will meet at 8:00 p.m. on the 28th day of June, 1961, to consider said bids and make an award.

The bonds will be delivered at the office of the undersigned, or such other place as may be agreed on with the successful bidder; if outside of the limits of the School District the bidder will pay expense of delivery at that place.

Before making tender of the bonds at the place of delivery the Board shall give written notice to the successful bidder not later than the third day before the proposed tender, of the fact that the bonds, transcript, no-litigation certificate, and approving opinion will be available for delivery and giving the date and hour for the tender at the said place of delivery, provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the making of a mutually agreeable arrangement for the delivery of the bonds either at the place fixed for delivery or elsewhere.

If such notice has not been given by the Board or waived by the successful bidder and the bonds, transcript, no-litigation certificate and approving opinion are not available for delivery to the successful bidder at such place of delivery on or before 12:00 noon of the 30th calendar day after the day fixed for the receipt of bids, and the successful bidder shall not be in default of any of his obligations, he shall have the right, thereafter and so long as no such tender by the Board shall yet have been made, to cancel the contract of purchase; such right to be exercised by delivering to the undersigned (or to his office during business hours) written notice of such cancellation. Such bidder shall thereupon be entitled to the return of the deposit which accompanied his bid and it shall be returned to him immediately.

Radio Club Reviews Need For Generator

The need for a portable electric generator for use on Field Day June 24-25 was discussed at a meeting of the Triangle Amateur Radio Club Monday night at the Smith St. quarters.

Return of the Civil Defense communications truck to state authorities, following deactivation of the 31st Mobile Support Group, has left the club without emergency power supply for field operation.

Discussion was held on supplies available in the district. Anyone willing to provide such a supply for two days may notify Charles Burke of Lee St., president.

A special meeting will be held Monday night at 8 to further discuss the problem. About 17 attended the meeting. Refreshments were provided by Lester Armstrong and Larry Armstrong.
